

REAL ESTATE BROKER SHOOTS DOWN CONTRACTOR AS LATTER SITS IN CAR WITH ASSAILANT'S WIFE

Carnes Spent $13,000 in Financing Film Actresses

CONTRACTS FOUND IN SAFE REVEAL SCREEN VENTURE

Sonia Norida, Lois Griffin and Mrs. Pope Said To Have Received From $3,000 to $5,000 Each.

GIRL TELLS STORY OF MEETING CARNES

Fulton County Grand Jury Prepares To Take Up Evidence in Case of Ex-Treasurer Today.

Clinton S. Carnes, two-term ex-convict, accused of looting the treasury of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, showered gold on the heads of movie-mad girls in their tragic efforts to obtain fame and fortune.

This was learned in Atlanta Monday as the wheels of justice were oiled for the indictment of Carnes by the Fulton county grand jury today.

As the solicitor general's office subpoenaed officials of the mission board, its auditors and leaders of the clergy and laity, from far off Hollywood came the news that two girls, sent to the capital of filmland, and until Carnes' disappearance financed by him, were all but disillusioned at the even fate had dealt. To Mamie Lois Griffin, of Hapeville, and Sonia Norida, nee Alfield Sonia Nordlie, of Norway, Carnes, the man whom every police officer in the country is seeking, was a fairy godfather, an angel whose wealth and benefactions were to win for them the fame and acclaim so sought by thousands and attained by so few.

Thomas Howell Scott, lawyer and one of the receivers for Carnes' private interests appointed by the Fulton superior court at the behest of officials of the wrecked home mission board, Monday revealed that in Carnes' safe in his offices in the Hensley building he had found contracts arranged with the two girls through Mrs. Louise Pope, formerly of Atlanta, whereby Carnes was to finance the girls in their efforts to win places in filmland, his loss to be returned plus interest after the girls had succeeded. The notes made by Carnes and attached to these contracts showed that Carnes had paid Miss Griffin $5,138.82, Miss Norida $3,721.61, while Mrs. Pope received $4,394.47.

Meanwhile the search for Carnes was concentrated in and around Los Angeles as one of the girls revealed that she was expecting a visit from Carnes.

Since Carnes' disappearance, Mr. Scott said, frantic appeals have come from Mrs. Pope, demanding the remittances or an explanation why they were not forthcoming. Mr. Scott said he had been unable to further identify the two girls from papers found in Carnes' safe.

The girl known as Sonia Norida readily admitted Monday at a hotel in Hollywood that she had been aided financially by Carnes but expressed great surprise of his reported defalcations.

Miss Norida, found at the hotel with Mrs. Pope, formerly of Atlanta.

Continued on Page 10, Column 3.

Pretty Factory Girl Sent To Hollywood by Carnes

MAMIE LOIS GRIFFIN.

The motion picture career of beautiful Mamie Lois Griffin, 20-year-old Hapeville girl, like the treasury of the Baptist mission board, has been wrecked through the defalcation and disappearance of Clinton S. Carnes. Miss Griffin is in Hollywood waiting for her monthly check from Carnes, which was to assist her in seeking fortune in the films.

From the overall factory to Hollywood—and probably, back to the overall factory again.

Such likely will be beautiful 20-year-old Mamie Lois Griffin's memory of Clinton S. Carnes long after Atlanta has forgotten the missing treasurer of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention.

Somewhere in Hollywood is Mamie Lois, waiting for her monthly check from Carnes. With the existing directors, far down on the list she is Lois Griffin, ingenue; on the postmaster's list she is Mamie Lois Griffin, as she was on the overall factory pay roll here a few months ago, and her address is general delivery, Hollywood.

To her mother, Mrs. M. A. Griffin, who sits and waits and prays in her little home at 10 Marino street, Hapeville, Mamie Lois Griffin is all a child of destiny, a motion picture star and the toast of a nation tomorrow, but to the movie directors of Hollywood Lois Griffin is just another girl, beautiful and with some talent but little chance.

But Mamie's tale is different from others. She knew Carnes, and Carnes had money.

Two years ago she worked in the Atlanta overall factory, side by side with her aging mother, sewing the raiment of men who were to go out in

MAINE REMAINS IN G. O. P. RANKS BY BIG MARGIN

Two-Thirds of All Precincts Reporting Indicate Majority of 60,000; Both Parties Lose Votes.

Portland, Maine, September 10.—(AP)—The election of William T. Gardiner, republican, as governor, and of the entire republican ticket for congress and United States senator by substantial majorities appeared assured on returns from more than two-thirds of the state's 633 precincts in today's state election.

Predictions of an unusually heavy vote made during the campaign were not borne out, as in all the larger places heard from up to 1 a. m. Including several of the cities, the total vote was smaller than that cast for governor in 1924, the last presidential election year.

Returns from 534 precincts gave: For governor, Gardiner (R), 115,177; Moran (D), 47,689. For senator: Hale (R), 112,369; Holmes (D), 45,970.

Four years ago the total vote for governor was 223,907. Brewster, republican, defeated Pattangall, democrat, by a margin of 36,055.

Among the larger cities as compared with the 1924 vote for governor, the total today fell off by 1,742 votes in Bangor, 734 in Augusta and 1,033 in Biddeford. In the first eight cities to report their results the falling off was heavier in the democratic vote than in the republican, and in four of these cities the republican vote was larger than that of four years ago.

DR. W. L. PIERCE TAKEN BY DEATH

Death Comes Unexpectedly Shortly After Minister Had Played Round of Golf in Decatur.

The Rev. W. L. Pierce, 62, presiding elder of the north Atlanta district of the North Georgia Southern Methodist conference died suddenly late Monday afternoon at his residence in Decatur.

Dr. Pierce had not been in the best of health for several weeks. He played a round of golf on a Decatur course and returned to his residence, telling friends that he felt better. A few moments later, he was stricken and death came almost instantly.

Dr. Pierce, who was one of the most widely loved members of the

Continued on Page 10, Column 5.

Buried Under Falling Dirt Little Girl Loses Her Life

Michelein Hunter, 10, Caught by Earth Slide as She Tries To Crawl Out of Deep Ditch.

While in the act of obeying her older sister, Roberta, 14, Monday night, Michelein Hunter, 10, met her death under an earth slide in a newly dug ditch, just across the street from their home at 862 Durant place.

"Michelein, come out of that ditch," Roberta commanded.

"Sure," the child replied, and started to clamber up the damp side of the excavation.

Michelein disappeared under a ton or more of dirt, as the side of the ditch caved in on her, and Roberta, terrified, screamed for help and jumped into the ditch, seeking to dig her sister out with her bare hands. Neighbors came on the run, passersby were stopped and pressed into service and every available shovel in that section was commandeered for the rescue work.

Fifteen minutes passed before the diggers, hampered at the start by failure to locate the exact spot because of the excitement, finally uncovered the little form, from which life already had passed. A pulmotor was put into service, but to no avail.

The girls were daughters of Mrs. Foster L. Hunter and stepdaughters of Mr. Hunter. Little Michelein was born in Tampa, Fla. Her stepfather is connected with Awtry & Lowndes, and had just returned to the office from a funeral at Covington, when notified of the accident.

The ditch was one which had been dug for the sewer and water connection.

Continued on Page 5, Column 6.

Assailant Collapses at Police Station

At the top is a photograph of Robert H. Caldwell, Jr., Gordon street real estate man, taken immediately after he collapsed at police headquarters where he was being booked for the shooting of J. H. Hanson, youthful contractor. Below is the weapon used by Caldwell, a shotgun, being displayed by K. W. Jones, city smoke inspector.

Photo by Walter Davis.

HORNADY BACKERS LOSE CLUB POINT

Effort To Have Revised Set of Minutes Read Fails When Mrs. Goodman Adjourns Meeting.

Efforts of the Hornady group of the Atlanta Woman's club to effect approval of a revised set of minutes of the turbulent session of that organization last May, which sent two groups into court dispute over the presidency, failed at the first fall meeting Monday afternoon when the president, Mrs. Charles Goodman, ruled that no club business was to be transacted.

Holding that the original minutes, prepared by the secretary, which state that the secretary of the club was instructed by the club to cast its vote for Mrs. Goodman in the May meeting, are incorrect, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, spokesman for the Hornady group, attempted to have a revised record, omitting this phrase approved.

Mrs. Goodman opened the session, which lasted a scant 15 minutes, by declaring that since the case was in the courts and the minutes in possession of attorneys, it would be impossible to have them read. Mrs. Richardson offered the set of minutes in her possession, but after much discussion, the president ruled that no club business would be transacted at the session and it was adjourned.

A temporary injunction, later made permanent, restrains the Hornady group from interfering with the president, Mrs. Goodman. The matter has been appealed and minutes of the last meeting now are a part of the court record.

Failure of Mrs. Goodman to call for reading of the minutes removed possibility of the Hornady group voting down these minutes and accepting their own set.

Immediately after the invocation by Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Goodman arose and said: "Club members, I am sorry to state that the Atlanta Woman's club is involved in court and the minutes of the last meeting are in the hands of the attorneys, so cannot be read at this time." She then asked for the treasurer's report, but Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, the treasurer, being absent

Continued on Page 10, Column 6.

Are You 21?
Then Be Your Age!
VOTE
State Primary, Sept. 12
Get Out the Vote Campaign

QUEEN OF ENGLAND FISHES WITH WORMS; BAITS OWN HOOK

Balmoral, Scotland, September 10. Queen Mary is indulging in one of her favorite sports, fishing, while on holiday here this year, and she doesn't hesitate to bait her own hook either. She uses worms. Friends found her baiting the king's hook.

"She says she can do it much better than I can," King George laughingly explained.

HASSELL AND AID RESCUED AS BOAT SINKS IN ARCTIC

Copenhagen, September 10.—(United News)—The Greenland administration department announced today that a radio message from South Greenland reported the motorboat carrying Bert Hassell and Parker Crampton, rescued Rockford, Ill., fliers and their companion, Professor Hobbs, of the University of Michigan expedition, to Greenland, had struck a rock and sank four miles from Sinuitak at the mouth of the Sinuitak fjord last Thursday.

Voigt and Johnston Tie For Low Medal in Amateur not as good as par can do. Watts Gunn had a terrible struggle on his hands to card an 80 when his putter failed to function with any regularity and has his hands full tomorrow to qualify in this tournament.

Generally speaking, the first day of qualifying shattered the hope most unceremoniously and with regard for name or station. Of the members of the American Walker cup team there was but one under par. Johnston with his 71 shared the lead with Voigt, while the rest of the "nation's best amateurs" struggled back toward the rear.

It is very apparent tonight that a score of 100 or nearly that high will qualify for match play in this tournament. All of them are finding the intricacies of this terrible course too great a strain on their nerves.

With the exception of Von Elm and Johnston the leaders today are very likely to slip to the rear guard of the parade by tomorrow night and by the same token a lot of the high scorers today are almost sure to knock several strokes off their scores.

The thing is all in a mess now and the wisest of all the dopesters are shaking their heads in dismay. There is no reckoning the morrow. Usually at the end of the first day the low medalist can be named among two or three leaders, but here it is different. This course brooks no prognosticating with safety.

Robert Jones is now tied for fourth place in the qualifying scores and it is a very safe bet that he will

Continued on Page 16, Column 1.

ESTRANGED WIFE BELIEVES HUSBAND SOUGHT HER LIFE

J. H. Hanson Is at Grady in Critical Condition and R. H. Caldwell Is Held by Police.

PRISONER BELIEVED TO BE DERANGED

Mrs. Caldwell Tells of Efforts She and Attorney Made To Have Him Adjudged Insane.

In what police were told was a fit of derangement, Robert H. Caldwell, Jr., 54-year-old West End real estate broker, late Monday shot and probably fatally wounded J. H. Hanson, 26, a building contractor and friend of the estranged Mrs. Caldwell, as the contractor and Mrs. Caldwell sat in the latter's motor car at the corner of Gordon and Peoples streets discussing a building they are erecting jointly at that corner.

Young Hanson is at the Henry Grady hospital, dangerously wounded, having received two charges from Caldwell's shotgun, both taking effect in the left side of the face. Caldwell also is at the Grady, his ribs having been fractured as he was yanked from his own motor car by passersby who witnessed the shooting.

Mrs. Caldwell, 38, recalling several efforts of herself and her attorneys to have her husband adjudged insane, said Monday night that she knew of no cause for the shooting save the desire of her husband to have her withdraw a suit for divorce now pending in the Fulton superior court and set for trial next week.

Sitting in Automobile. According to witnesses, Hanson and Mrs. Caldwell were sitting in a parked sedan when Caldwell drove up from the rear and without warning opened fire on his wife. Hanson, evidently believing that the real estate man would not shoot at him, threw himself in front of the woman.

Mrs. Caldwell, who is under the care of her physician in her apartment at 1230 Peachtree street, said Monday night that she was certain the shots were intended for her, citing threats made by her husband against her and their two sons, Clarence, 17, and William, 15. Mrs. Caldwell also said that her husband had written her attorneys, Hendrix and Buchanan. Her statement later was confirmed by William F. Buchanan, a member of the law firm, who said that he had a record of Caldwell's letters at that office.

At the police station Caldwell fainted while being booked. Upon recovering he complained of an injured side, whereupon he was taken to the hospital and the fracture of the rib discovered.

At the hospital, where Caldwell is being held under police orders, the real

Continued on Page 10, Column 3.

The Weather FAIR.

Washington—Forecast:
Georgia—Fair Tuesday and Wednesday.

Local Weather Report.
Highest temperature 83
Lowest temperature 65
Mean temperature 74
Normal temperature 75
Rainfall in past 12 hrs., inches00
Total rain since 1st of month 2.00
Excess since Jan. 1, inches 7.80
Total rainfall since Jan. 1 43.86

7 a.m. 7 p.m.
Dry temperature 68 81 77
Wet bulb 62 68 66
Relative humidity 73 52 56

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATION AND STATE	WEATHER	Temp., High	Temp., Low	Rain, 12 hrs.
ATLANTA, Ga.	clear	77	63	.00
Albany, Ga.	clear	74	60	.00
Birmingham, Ala.	clear	80	66	.00
Boston, Mass.	clear	69	66	.00
Buffalo, N. Y.	pt. cloudy	74	78	.00
Charleston, S. C.	clear	76	82	.00
Chicago, Ill.	cloudy	80	66	.00
Denver, Colo.	cloudy	64	70	.00
Des Moines, Ia.	cloudy	68	76	.00
Galveston, Texas	cloudy	82	66	.00
Hatteras, N. C.	clear	74	80	.00
Havana, Cuba	clear	78	82	.00
Indianapolis, Ind.	clear	78	82	.00
Kansas City, Mo.	pt. cloudy	76	78	.00
Memphis, Tenn.	cloudy	82	66	.00
Montgomery, Ala.	clear	80	66	.00
New Orleans, La.	cloudy	80	88	.00
New York, N. Y.	clear	64	74	.00
North Platte, Neb.	cloudy	76	82	.00
Oklahoma City, Okla.	clear	82	66	.00
Phoenix, Ariz.	clear	96	70	.00
Pittsburgh, Pa.	cloudy	78	86	.00
Portland, Me.	cloudy	82	66	.00
San Francisco, Calif.	clear	60	62	.00
St. Louis, Mo.	cloudy	82	66	.00
Salt Lake City, Utah	clear	70	72	.00
Savannah, Ga.	clear	74	84	.00
Tampa, Fla.	clear	84	74	.00
Toledo, Ohio	cloudy	80	88	.00
Vicksburg, Miss.	clear	78	90	.00
Washington, D. C.	clear	74	86	.00

C. F. von HERMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

MR. JIM Says:

MOST fortunes are amassed by careful handling of money rather than by quick earnings of big sums. The man who spends wisely invests wisely—and saves money. With that idea in view, Mrs. Jim and I do our buying after consulting Constitution ads.

Advertising in The Constitution Pays the Advertiser and Saves the Buyer.

Largest Circulation, Morning or Evening, of Any Daily Newspaper in Atlanta!

MACHINISTS PLAN FOR MEETING HERE

A. O. Wharton, international president, and E. C. Davison, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Machinists, of Washington, D. C., were in Atlanta Monday with other officers to arrange for the eighteenth quadrennial convention of the large labor organization which opens at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel next week.

The executive council, consisting of Mr. Wharton, Mr. Davison and the following vice presidents: P. J. Conlon, Washington, D. C.; Robert F. Fitch, Boston; Harley F. Nickerson, Milwaukee; John T. Thorpe, San Francisco; Harvey W. Brown, Cleveland; Fred Landemann, Kansas City; and James Somerville, Montreal, Canada, will hold daily sessions in Atlanta this week for preliminary discussion of problems that will face the general convention.

Official delegates to the convention will number 350, making it the largest est convention ever held by the machinists, exclusive of the war period. President Wharton stated Monday in outlining activities of the organization. The quadrennial, which marks the fortieth anniversary of the association of machinists, will assemble here many followers in addition to official delegates, Mr. Wharton said. There are 100,000 machinists, comprising 11,000 locals of the North America continent and United States possessions.

According to Mr. Wharton, the general convention, which opens the first of two weeks of sessions on Monday, September 17, will represent the first assembly of its kind to be held in the southeast since the first convention, in 1889, the machinists association having been founded in Atlanta on May 3, 1888.

Highlights on the entertainment program, which will be in charge of Emmet Quinn, president of the Atlanta local No. 1, will include a sight-seeing trip by motor bus for the delegates, including Atlanta, Stone Mountain and the Southern Railway shops, where the organization had its inception, Saturday, September 22, will be known as "Machinists Day" at Lakewood park. The Lakewood events arranged for the visiting machinists will include automobile races at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a barbecue for 1,000 persons, including city, county and state officials and prominent local citizens, and concluded with an elaborate display of pyrotechnics at night. On Sunday, September 23, memorial exercises will be held at the Capitol theater for deceased members of the local and international orders.

Commenting on the steady growth of the International Association of Machinists, Mr. Wharton stated it was interesting to note the rapid growth of industries in the south. "The south is just beginning to realize its possibilities in this direction," the international head of machinists remarked. "For those in close contact with the spread of industries and location of the labor population as the offices of our organization demand, there can be little doubt of the south's rapid industrial development. The increase in membership of the association indicates clearly that new industries are being established in the south," President Wharton said.

HARDMAN FORCES SEE BIG MAJORITY

Claims that Governor Hardman will be reelected by a large county unit and popular vote than he received in the last election were made Monday by the Hardman campaign headquarters. It was stated that the campaign headquarters had confidence that the people would endorse the record the governor has made in office.

The statement also reviews the campaign charges made from time to time by the headquarters against State Senator E. D. Rivers, who is opposing the governor for reelection.

Letters and telegrams have been received at the headquarters from many leading citizens of the state predicting a Hardman victory, it was stated. The statement is as follows:

"Governor Hardman will be voted a second term in Wednesday's primaries by a majority of county unit and popular votes even larger than that which swept him into office two years ago, when he twice within a few weeks defeated the same interests which are now fighting him under a different leader.

"We have never for one moment had any doubt that Governor Hardman's record would be endorsed by the people in this primary. Our confidence in his victory has grown day by day as the campaign advanced. We have every reason to believe that Candidate Rivers' attacks upon him have reacted in the governor's favor.

"We wish it were possible to show our friends, as well as those of Candidate Rivers, even a small part of the telegrams and letters which are continuing to pour into headquarters, pledging support to Governor Hardman and giving confident prediction of victory in various counties. It is significant that many of these come from counties where Candidate Rivers made his most vicious attacks upon Governor Hardman.

"Only one thing remains to be done to make the Hardman majority an overwhelming one—and that is for every man and woman who favors his candidacy to go to the polls Wednesday and cast their ballots. Nothing but overconfidence can reduce the majority that will be his.

"By all standards of achievement Dr. Hardman has proved his ability as an executive and his claim to respect a second or indorsement term. He has been a faithful and efficient servant of the people, and there can be no valid reason for supplanting him with an aspirant whose only claim is his own desire for office.

"Governor Hardman's administration has provided more than $6,500,000 for the common schools. It will provide in 1925 more than $7,500,000 for the common schools and better educational facilities than Georgia ever has enjoyed. He has liquidated a deficit for the state to the amount of $803,000. His has been a business-like administration which we will leave to the judgment of any thinking business man.

"Georgia owes less money than ever before in her history, excepting the enormous indebtedness to various counties owed by the state highway department, to which Governor Hardman has forcefully called the public's attention.

"Governor Hardman has served the people of Georgia enormously through his ardent support of the health department. He has equipped a laboratory for health work which has supplied serums and treatment for rabies and other maladies which has saved the people at least half-a-million dollars a year, besides the lives of thousands. The reports of the state board of health reveals that 27,000 lives, more than the entire population of some counties, have been saved by treatment for mad dog bites under a bill provided by Dr. Hardman. This department has saved the public more than four million dollars since its establishment.

"Governor Hardman's administration has provided for all of the funds received by the state to be paid into the state treasury, certainly a business-like system.

"Under Governor Hardman's administration a better research department has been provided for the experiment stations which are helping the farmers of Georgia make their farms pay profits. His entire record has been one of progress and service to the people of the state in which he was born and where he has always lived. He stands upon that record today in asking for the indorsement of the Georgia people.

"Candidate Rivers has talked of great things he would do for Georgia, if he were elected governor. One's future can be judged only by the past; he has no record as governor, but he has a record as representative and senator, and we have spread it before the people of Georgia in order that they might judge him for themselves.

"Candidate Rivers boasts of his desire to save the state money. But only a few days ago he urged Governor Hardman to call an extra session of the general assembly, to permit the highway department to be investigated by its friends in the senate.

"An extra session of the legislature would cost $175,000, or the taxes received from $35,000,000 worth of property. It would mean $175,000 taken from the funds for the public schools and other needed work, for the state would have to find the money somewhere, and it would leave just that much less for other purposes.

Governor Hardman promptly declined to accept Candidate Rivers' suggestion, as he was unwilling to saddle the taxpayers with any such expenditure.

"Candidate Rivers, while protesting his desire to save the state from waste of funds and to protect the interests of the people, voted against the resolution to investigate 180 failures of Georgia banks and the exorbitant fees which in many cases were paid to liquidating agents and attorneys engaged to wind up the affairs of these banks. It has been shown that while wives were left penniless, children taken from school and put to work, business houses going bankrupt from losses of deposits, and men to have lost everything were committing suicide, some of these liquidating agents were pocketing huge fees. The records show that at the time he voted as state senator against the resolution for an investigation, Mr. Rivers had safely put away more than $7,000 he had been paid as attorney and liquidating agent for the little bank at Adel, while its stockholders and depositors were still wondering when they would recover a part of their losses.

"Candidate Rivers' attitude on the Western & Atlantic railway situation arouses interest, also, to those who watched his votes in the senate. He favored a continuation of the present lease for 50 years after the present lease expires, though that has still 41 years to run. Does that look like good business for Georgia?

"That railroad is one of Georgia's most valuable assets. It stands back of the state's bonds, her educational fund and the Confederate pensions. "Can anyone who has faith in Georgia and her industrial progress doubt for a moment that this railroad will be worth vastly more 41 years hence than it is worth today? Then why this anxiety on the part of Senator Rivers to extend the lease, when the only possible bidder could be the present lessee, and the amount would be fixed without competition?

"The city of Atlanta is spending a million dollars on viaducts to span

CONTESTS LACKING IN 47 COUNTIES

Voting for members of the lower house of the Georgia legislature will be a mere formality in at least 47 Georgia counties Wednesday, contests for seats in the house being lacking in that many of the state's divisions, according to information in the hands of the Associated Press.

In several counties, however, the electorate will be given a wide selection of names in the legislative marathon, Bibb county being outstanding in this respect in having a total of seven candidates for the county's allotted four seats. Reported candidates in this county, centered by Macon, are Ben B. Reitz, L. Thomas Gillen, W. C. Cooper, Ben J. Fowler, J. F. Malone, Eugene Horne and L. Thomas Gillen.

The counties in which no contests have been reported follow, with the number of seats allotted being understood as one unless otherwise specified:

Baker, Lemuel W. Parr; Baldwin, Marion H. Allen; Banks, J. R. G. Logan; Ben Hill, Wesley H. Walker; Berrien, A. D. Tucker; Bleckley, Guy D. Jackson; Candler, J. Comer Trappan.

Calhoun, W. T. Adkins; Chatham (2), Spencer M. Grayson, Columbus E. Alexander and Lewis A. Mills; Cherokee, Joe J. Johnson; Clayton, John Ellis Mundy (no opponent reported); Dawson, J. A. Stephens; Dougherty, Cruger Westbrook; Early, Joseph Freeman.

Echols, I. E. Culpepper; Fannin, Allison S. Prince; Fayette, J. W. Culpepper; Franklin, L. S. Johnson; Glynn, J. T. Colson; Gordon, R. Y. Dickey; Haralson, Dr. J. P. Rea; Henry, D. J. Arnold; Houston, J. P. Duncan; Irwin, J. E. Howell; Jackson (2), Homer Hancock, J. E. J. Lord; Jasper, W. H. Key.

Jeff Davis, John A. Cromartie; Jenkins, Walter C. Perkins; Johnson, A. Lee Hatcher; Lee, G. H. Richardson; Liberty, Donald E. Martin; Monroe, R. C. Goolsby, Sr.; Morgan, John Bostwick; Oglethorpe, Hamilton McWorter, Jr.; Paulding, Herman H. Watson; Pierce, J. R. Walker, Jr.; Putnam, J. Oscar Wall; Randolph, Linton B. West; Spalding, C. A. Ryan; Stephens, Ferner Barrett; Talbot, R. R. Trotter; Talbot, J. H. McGhee; Tift, T. E. Phillips; Union, R. H. Stone; Wheeler, R. E. Rivers; Wilkes (2), Thomas W. Cozart and Edward W. Adams.

ATTEMPT TO KISS POLICEMAN'S HAND RESULTS IN $11 FINE

Cosmopolitanism is all right, but it should be employed with wisdom, as demonstrated Monday in the case of Inlor Ratkowsky, who was fined $11 before Recorder Murphy M. Holloway, on charges of disorderly conduct made by Patrolman W. D. Nash against Ratkowsky, when the latter insisted on kissing the officer's hand in an attempt to induce him to free him from a drunk charge.

These tracks and keep the Union station in its central location in the heart of the city. But very suddenly, with this work under way, the railroad's lessee announces the intention of abandoning that station and converting that valuable property into freight yards, with a tremendous loss of value to the state and the city.

"Those are just a few of the salient points of Mr. Rivers' official record as a maker or obstructer of laws. We leave the people to judge what his record would be if the state of Georgia were so unfortunate as to have him in the governor's office.

"We see no possibility, however, that Candidate Rivers will become Governor Rivers. We only ask Governor Hardman's friends to go to the polls Wednesday and officially register their approval of his administration and their confidence that he will give the state another two years of sound and honest service."

VOTE SEPT. 12 for

B. M. BULLARD

Age 51

FOR STATE

Comptroller-General

Wm. A. Wright has held this office 30 years and is past the age of 84.

One Skinny Man Gained 28 Pounds

"Feels Like a Real Man Now—Thanks to McCoy's."

That's just what one man wrote from Atlantic City and thousands of men and women know by experience that McCoy's Tablets, known the world over as the great flesh producer, do put on flesh where flesh is most needed.

It doesn't take but a few weeks for hollows in cheeks, neck and chest to fill out and what a change for the better this will make in your personal appearance.

And besides looking better you'll feel better for in McCoy's Tablets is a combination of health building agents that increase strength and bring vigorous health to weak run-down nervous men and women.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 six-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets, or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Jacobs Drug Store, or any drug store in America. (adv.)

Wanted Year for Murder, Had Been Deputy Sheriff

Chicago, September 10.—(AP)—When the police picked up Ben Barrett, whom they had sought for a year to answer a charge of murder, they expressed curiosity as to where he had been during the past twelve months.

"I've been a deputy sheriff," Ben told them. "Down in El Paso, Tex. I told the sheriff I was down there for my health, so he gave me a job."

"What doing?" inquired the police. "Arresting people," said Barrett, explaining that he also did clerical work, filing police circulars and that sort of thing.

"I often thumbed through the 'wanted' circulars," said Ben, "and read where this fellow Ben Barrett was wanted in Chicago for murder. I studied his picture. I would hardly have recognized him."

"I sure liked El Paso," said Ben, wistfully, his gaze falling on the bars of his cell. "I wish I was back there right now."

Hairdressers Meet.

The Georgia Association of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at 113-115 Hunter street, S. W. All shop owners are urged to be present.

WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING.

P. Talmadge Bowers, of Canon, Ga., after being defeated for the Republican County chairman of Franklin Co., Ga., now seeks the high office of Secretary of State of Georgia at hands of the Democrats. To no personal knowledge Bowers has always voted the Republican ticket since he was old enough to vote. He is not qualified to hold this high office and the Democrats of Georgia should know these facts.

O. B. MENDES.

What Do Young Men Want in Clothes

?

We Know!

Style is one thing. Authentic style sponsored by the best dressed young men of this country and Europe. We have all the models they're wearing.

Reasonable price is another thing young men want. And we go the limit to keep prices down to rock bottom.

$35 and up

ZACHRY

116 Peachtree St.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

CRICHTON'S
Shorthand
Take our FREE DEMONSTRATION LESSON and you will understand how this wonderful shorthand can be mastered in four months or less.
REVEL FOR CATAING
In Atlanta Nearly 60 Years Crichton's Business College Whitehall and Trinity

Philibosian's

Less Than Wholesale Prices Demonstrated in a Practical Manner

THE Furniture which we bought from Wilson, Chase & Co., St. Petersburg, at half wholesale prices consists of seventeen carloads of their finest furniture and involves the sum of many thousands of dollars. The quantity purchased is too great to be displayed in its entirety on our retail floors. A large portion of it is still in our wholesale warehouse.

This remarkable collection of fine furniture is without limit in its possibilities—enabling us to offer each day something literally marvellous in value. Each day we have something new to show you—more and more wonderful and definite values to inspire more and more your enthusiasm.

The word VALUE has its full and definite meaning in this offer—is now having a tangible demonstration.

We are creating a special campaign of selling for this purpose which is telling the story of Philibosian's Furniture VALUES in an emphatically tangible manner.

Many smart "small things" that create the "lived in" atmosphere of a home are prominent in this collection at very small prices.

Stephen Philibosian, Inc.
FURNITURE • RUGS • DRAPERIES

671 PEACHTREE STREET
Next to Georgian Terrace

VOTERS OF DEKALB HEAR TALMADGE

Decatur, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—In an address before the voters of DeKalb county delivered here tonight, Commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Talmadge branded as false statements attributed to G. C. Adams, his opponent, that the commissioner has been financing his campaign with funds of the department.

The incumbent commissioner reiterated his oft-repeated charges that his opponent was affiliated with the "fertilizer trust" and repeated his criticism of the manner in which Adams' campaign has been conducted.

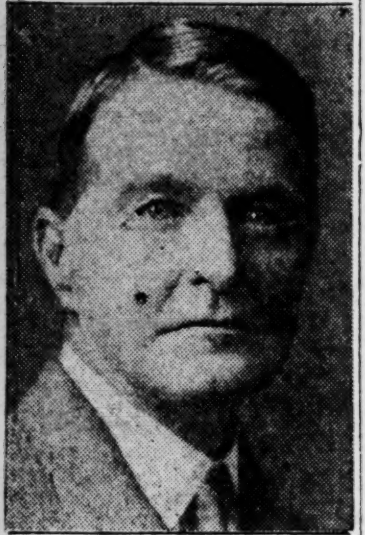

Mr. Talmadge declared:

"Mr. Adams' last minute statements that department funds are being used in my campaign for reelection are false. His statement that I had spent more money in the operation of the department than Mr. Brown, is also false. He knew that I had been required, by the legislature, to pay out large sums of money in extinguishment of bills contracted by Mr. Brown and that the money paid oil inspectors did not go through the treasury of the state for which reason the $170,000 paid by Mr. Brown for oil inspectors did not appear in the figures cited by him.

"My campaign has been conducted

VOTE FOR

Robert B. Blackburn

Judge Court of Appeals
He has the support of a majority of the Lawyers throughout the State.

THIS YEAR when school opens a Carter
Pen

To encourage writing, make writing easier. As nearly as it can be made effortless, so much less will it interrupt thought—so much more will it inspire creative genius. What an advantage in the student days —and all through life for that matter.

The Carter Pen is a marvelously smooth and easy writing pen. It writes instantly with the slightest pressure—and yet it is Osmidurium point is flexible and will wear indefinitely. Start now, right, with the Carter Pen.

$7.00 and $5.00

OR A CARTER PEN and PENCIL Set

The Carter Pencil is a good writing mate for the Carter Pen. Made to match in various colors, and attractively boxed.

$1c.50 $3.50, $7.00, $6.50.

THE CARTER
PEN

OFFICE OUTITTERS
Ivan Allen-Marshall Co.
MANUFACTURING STATIONERS
Atlanta, Ga.
Exclusive Atlanta Dealers

FULTON HIGH ALUMNI WILL MEET TONIGHT

The first school year meeting of the Fulton High School Alumni association has been called by Dr. Harold McDonald, new president, for 8 o'clock tonight at the school. Plans for the new year's work will be discussed and a large attendance is expected.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSE BIG DAMAGE TO CROPS

Winder, Ga., September 10.—Following the rains of the past week crops in this section have suffered a 10 per cent damage. It is estimated by a number of prominent farmers that the damage will be greater than that. Cotton was just beginning to open and most of the bottom bolls that were cracked began to sour and rot. The boll weevil has been found in most cotton fields, and though he has done very little damage up to the time the rains set in, it is feared now that the damage from this insect will be more than can be predicted at present. Poison has been used in a number of fields where the weevil has been found, but this was washed off by the continuous rains and didn't have very much effect.

The corn crop in this county is unusually late and about half of what is normally planted. This crop is looking good and promises a good yield, but the winds that accompanied the rains have caused a lot of it to fall down, damaging the ears considerably. What fodder that has been pulled, although a small quantity, has been ruined. Hay crops and forage crops are in fine condition, and ready for mowing. With a few days of dry weather this crop will be harvested and out of the way. This county made last year over 12,000 bales of cotton, with the present outlook of a crop this year of about 10,000 bales.

NOTED NATURALIST TO ADDRESS ROTARY

Joseph H. Dodson, of Kankakee, Ill., naturalist and well-known authority on bird life, will address the weekly meeting of the Rotary club at 12:30 o'clock today, in the Capital City club. Mr. Dodson will speak on "Bird Life." Mr. Dodson is visiting Atlanta under auspices of Fred Patterson.

PIKE'S PEAK CLIMB

dramatic demonstration of FRANKLIN POWER, SPEED, AIR-COOLING

Franklin Special flashes up Pike's Peak course, 12.4 miles, to height of 14,109 feet in amazing time of 19 minutes, 25½ seconds

AMID cheering crowds and astounded spectators, a Franklin Special, piloted by Cannon Ball Baker, raced the classic Pike's Peak hill-climb in 19 minutes, 25½ seconds! Entered for the first time in this famous annual Labor Day event, the Franklin gained the admiration of thousands throughout the course of 12.4 miles—in which it climbed from 9,000 ft. to 14,000 ft.—a difference of one whole mile in altitude—and finished the terrific grind within one minute and 43 seconds of the winner.

... up, UP, UP for 12.4 miles

A gruelling, spectacular run! Around 203 hairpin curves and switch-backs, from summer heat to 2 degrees below freezing, with snow covered roadways—and matched against 6 other high powered, specially constructed cars, Franklin scored an individual triumph—the only car with no special extra provisions for cooling the engine.

This Franklin Special was designed and built on the identical advanced principles employed in the new Franklin Airman Limited.

Air-cooling proved supreme

In the air an air-cooled motor carried Lindbergh to Paris—conquered the Pacific—the North Pole—and now Byrd gives further endorsement by using only air-cooled motors on his Antarctic Expedition. On land the air-cooled Franklin travelled from Los Angeles to New York and return 10½ hours faster than the former record time—the air-cooled Franklin climbed Lookout Mountain, which is 46% steeper than Pike's Peak, in new record time. Here, in the Airman Limited, is a car that challenges any other car in road performance.

World's fastest road car

The Airman Limited is thrilling thousands of owners with its incomparable riding comfort, lightning acceleration and ability to maintain long sustained high speed over roads as they come. We urge you to drive the car—you'll be astonished.

The WORLD'S FASTEST ROAD CAR
AIRMAN LIMITED
FRANKLIN MOTOR CAR CO.

151 West Peachtree Street, ATLANTA, GA.

Other Franklin Dealers in This Vicinity

Albany—Ingram's Garage
Athens—Epps' Garage
Greenville—Simmons' Garage
Fitzgerald—F. H. Hilliard
Thomasville—W. W. Upchurch

Macon—Chas. H. Yates Motor Co.
Marietta—Benson's Garage
Griffin—McElroy's Garage

Columbus—McMurry Motor Co.
Rome—G. H. Hays
LaGrange—Harry W. Hennessy

Jacksonville—McMurry Motor Co.
Augusta—Franklin Augusta Motor Company
Savannah—Franklin Cars, Inc.
Albany—C. D. Smith

RABBIT SHOW WINNERS TO SHARE $650 PRIZES

Announcement of more than $650 in cash prizes and more than $500 in cups and additional awards for the rabbit show to be held at the Southeastern fair September 29 through October 6 in conjunction with the Atlanta Rabbit and Cavy club featured a semi-monthly meeting Monday night at the Ansley hotel of the latter organization.

It also was announced at the meeting that the regular monthly bulletin of the club, which was scheduled to be mailed out October 1, will be in the mails within the next two days in order that it may reach members in time for them to make preparations to show at the fair. An entry blank is contained in the October bulletin.

Practically all of the meeting was given over to discussions and announcements concerning the rabbit show and officials of the club stated that the prize list is the largest ever offered for any rabbit show ever held in the United States. Several prizes are to be awarded by the American Rabbit and Cavy club.

Officers of the Atlanta Rabbit and Cavy club are J. Junion, president; B. N. (Andy) Anderson, vice president, and J. J. Lamb, secretary and treasurer. Members of the board of directors include Dr. H. H. Durham, Dr. S. H. Dillard, H. B. Cobb, M. D. Gleason, I. W. Taylor and A. H. Leinhardt.

CARSWELL'S MANAGER HITS SENATOR KELLY

T. S. Mason, campaign manager of Secretary of State George H. Carswell, Monday afternoon, replying to the comment of State Senator John I. Kelly, as manager for Jas. J. Flynn, on the letter written by Judge John S. Davis, of Wilkinson county, said:

"The most astounding spectacle of the whole campaign this year has been the remarkable stunts of John I. Kelly in handling the campaign of Judge Flynn against Mr. Carswell. Mr. Kelly is the man who wrote letters all over the state and posted flaming signs everywhere under Mr. Carswell's pictures; the man who turned this campaign in Georgia into one of villification and abuse, slime and snuff. The same Mr. Kelly who, in using Judge Flynn's race to prepare himself as candidate for the seat in Congress now held by Hon. Tom Bell, seeks to constitute of himself the inheritor of the mantle of the late Senator Watson, and to arrogate to himself the leadership of the Watson following in Georgia, when those people and all others who know Kelly know it would fit him just about like a tent would fit a tadpole."

"Caught up on his dirty work, in consciously and deliberately misstating facts and diverting truth, by a letter written by Judge John S. Davis, eight years ordinary of Wilkinson county, former member of the general assembly from that county, and who comes to the next state senate unopposed, Mr. Kelly says in so many words in print this afternoon that the eight members of the Wilkinson county committee who swore under oath about the ballot-burning in their county a good many years ago, perjured themselves; that, as he states it: 'I remind Mr. Davis that Mr. Watson knew who his friends were,' and that Kelly knows more about the ballot-burning in Wilkinson county than the people of that county do, 'their oaths to the contrary notwithstanding.'"

"And this sort of language, this accusation against the good people of Wilkinson county comes from the man whom Senator Watson tried to befriend and benefit, but who Senator Watson found it impossible to get along with and had to get rid of as secretary and chase him back home from Washington. That's the same Mr. Kelly; the same man who now seeks to be a 'second Tom Watson' in Georgia. Yes, I suspect the Watson toad would fit John Kelly just about like a tent would fit a tadpole."

ALLEGED SLAYER OF WIFE TO FACE TRIAL SEPT. 25

Trial of T. B. Blake, accused of first degree murder in connection with the fatal beating of his wife, Emma, on June 16, which originally was set for September 18 before Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court Monday was postponed until September 25.

The trial was reset after Len Guilbeau, counsel for Fred D. Fair, informed Judge Humphries that the Fair defense was ready for trial on September 18. Fair is accused of first degree murder in connection with the shooting of Patrolman J. D. McDaniels. His trial originally was set for last week but was postponed on account of the illness of Mr. Guilbeau.

Blake is alleged to have struck his wife with the butt end of a shotgun, inflicting injuries which caused her death, during a quarrel in front of 19 Oak Grove street.

BRIAND ATTACKS SOVIET, GERMANY

Geneva, September 10.—(AP)—Aristide Briand, foreign minister of France, tonight followed up his virile speech to the assembly of the League of Nations in defense of the Franco-British naval accord with a statement that it would be made completely public through the league committee on disarmament. The speech of M. Briand, in which he took a slap at Russia and reproved some statements made in behalf of Germany, was only one of the events which made the day outstanding in the assembly. Spain, Venezuela, and Persia were elected to three-year terms on the council, Spain winning semi-permanency by receiving the "privilege of reeligibility." Nationalist China, refused this distinction, was among the several countries disappointed by the choice of these three. The French foreign minister today told the assembly in one of the greatest political speeches of his career that there were no secret clauses in the accord with England and that it had been arranged for the sole purpose of facilitating reduction of armament. In his address M. Briand complained, somewhat bitterly, that some persons had said immediately that it embodied "something unhealthy." Instead of asking "for whom," these persons had asked "against whom," said the minister. They had spoken of "secret clauses and all the paraphernalia which does not take on a pacific aspect."

In reality, said M. Briand, the accord was much simpler and he said that the world would learn that France and Great Britain had genuinely striven to facilitate the work preparatory to a disarmament conference. In other parts of his speech M. Briand pointedly to the German contention that they had been disarmed while other countries show no signs of reduction in their forces. "Instead of being disarmed, Germany has an army of 100,000 men," he said. "Germany also has a magnificent reservoir of man power from which she may draw a much larger army."

The French statesman criticized Russia for increasing her armaments.

and for "glorifying in it." While the soviet union by adhering to the Kellogg pact has renounced wars of aggression, he said that he did not know that it had renounced another kind of war, a holy war. He dubbed Russia's project for complete disarmament a "theatrical gesture."

SMITH'S ENEMIES BARRED IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, September 10.—(AP)—Anti-Smith democrats found the door to the state party convention here tomorrow closed to them when the state executive committee met today for the purpose of certifying delegates. Delegations from Dallas, Harris and Palo Pinto counties opposed to the democratic presidential nominee, Governor Alfred E. Smith, were barred from the state convention by a unanimous vote of the executive committee, while loyal democratic groups from each county were certified.

"Rump" Convention. It was a foregone conclusion that the "anti-Smithites" would hold a convention of their own and elect a separate state executive committee and a full list of officers. Leaders of the group, led by Alvin S. Moody, of Houston, were in caucus this afternoon completing plans for the "rump" convention. The executive committee first was forced to decide a merry battle within its own ranks before hearing the claims of the rival county delegations today. Two members of the committee, Benton McMillan, of Zavalla county, and Mrs. J. Y. Webb, of Dallas, holder of a proxy from Denton county, refused to pledge their support to Governor Smith. Mrs. Webb's proxy was cancelled by the vote, but the committee did not have the power to expel McMillan. He refused to resign.

Prohibition Views. Both McMillan and Mrs. Webb gave as reasons for their refusal to support the democratic presidential nominee his views on the prohibition laws. The vote on the cancellation of Mrs. Webb's proxy showed only two committeemen voting to allow her to remain on the committee. In refusing to tender his resignation McMillan said he would not vote

Tragedy Stalked in Ditch for Child

Photos by George Cornett, Staff Photographer.

While her sister, Roberta Hunter (shown below), urged Michelein to come out of the ditch, in the upper photograph, the wall caved in and completely covered the 10-year-old girl. She was dead when rescuers found her body. The man in the ditch holding the flashlight is M. C. Rigby, of 263 Durant place.

for Smith but neither would he vote for Hoover. "I have never voted for a republican and I never will," he declared. Former State Senator Thomas B. Love, one of the first political leaders of the state to refuse allegiance to the democratic presidential nominee, attended the committee meeting only as a spectator.

BURIED BY CAVE-IN GIRL LOSES LIFE

Continued from First Page.

tions in a bungalow under construction directly across the street from the Hunter home. The ditch was approximately eight feet deep, and efforts of the rescuers were hampered by this depth and the fact that the loose sand slid back almost as fast as it was removed.

Mrs. Albert Luxenberg, of 837 Durant place, and Mrs. Armstrong, of 841 Durant place, were among the first persons attracted to the rescue of Roberta's screams. They at once summoned male help. Several men who were passing joined in the work. Roberta said that her sister was playing in the ditch when she told Michelein to come out, because the dirt might cave in on her. Michelein was following that direction when the accident happened, Roberta said. "And then I just started trying to dig her out, and screaming and crying," she said.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Astry & Lowndes.

LONDON PRESS HITS NAVAL PACT SECRECY

London, September 10.—(AP)—Reported abandonment of the Franco-British naval agreement and official denial that the accord had been dropped today called forth from some quarters demands that the terms be made public without further delay. "The secrecy with which the pact has been surrounded has gone far to undo any good there may be in it," said the Daily Chronicle. "Why not publish these terms?"

The paper asserted "America's approval has been rendered well-nigh impossible by fierce and unscrupulous anti-British and anti-Kellogg agitation in the United States and, failing that, approval, it would hardly be proceeded with especially if, as reported, it was also rejected by Italy."

The Daily Press, reiterating that the agreement is "doomed," said it is "now trembling on the edge of its unwept, unhonored grave." A communicated article to the Daily News, which was given a prominent place, stated: "An unfortunate mixture of semi-publicity and semi-secrecy has done a vast amount of harm. The preparatory commission (for a League of Nations disarmament conference) ought to meet as soon as possible and thrash the whole thing out in public."

The conservative Morning Post complained bitterly about the "mischievous distortion" of the proposals by the British press in what the paper described as a campaign against the foreign office. The Post asserted that it was nonsense that the agreement was designed to hurt the United States or that it contains secret clauses or plans for joint future warfare.

Contractors' License Bill Wins Approval Of Hardman and Rivers

Both Governor L. G. Hardman and his opponent, State Senator E. D. Rivers, have given their approval of a proposed bill to be introduced in the legislature at its next session providing for the creation of a state board to license contractors. It was announced Monday by the Georgia chapter, Associated General Contractors of America.

Letters to both candidates were written by the Georgia chapter. In this letter the plan for creating a board was outlined. The fees from the licensed contractors will more than pay for the operation of the board, it was stated.

The replies of Senator Rivers and Governor Hardman follow: "I have just returned from a conference with Governor Hardman, in which he requested that I write you in reply to your letter of August 30 and say that as governor he will approve a properly drawn measure establishing a licensing board for examination of contractors desirous of doing business in Georgia."

Sam A. Nunn, campaign manager for Dr. Hardman, wrote as follows: "I have just returned from a conference with Governor Hardman, in which he requested that I write you in reply to your letter of August 30 and say that as governor he will approve a properly drawn measure establishing a licensing board for examination of contractors desirous of doing business in Georgia."

"Park Avenue" Is the Name of a Hat $5.50

Like the New York thoroughfare for which it is named, the Park Avenue hat belongs to the "elect"—by that we mean it suits best the type of man who can snap into any smart style and set it off becomingly. Comes in four beautiful colors.

The new Stetsons—$8.50 to $12—appeal to all men who find satisfaction in none other than the best hat made.

And "Hirsch Special" impresses all men alike—as the best quality, best style and best value for $5 and $6.

The time o' year has arrived to doff that straw and get under a new felt.

HIRSCH BROTHERS
74 Whitehall St.
HEAD-TO-FOOT OUTFITTERS FOR MEN AND BOYS

VOTE FOR

FELIX E. BOSWELL
Greensboro, Ga.
For Public Service (Railroad)
Commissioner.

This entire advertisement was sent by PHOTOGRAM
the new POSTAL TELEGRAPH service

Congratulations!

Gotham Gold Stripe
and Onyx Pointex Merchants

WE hasten to congratulate you on being the first to be able to take advantage of the new Gotham Knitbac Machine which repairs stocking runs flawlessly—"while you wait"—at low cost and with amazing speed.

Electrically driven and foot-controlled, it mends runs many times faster than any other device ever developed—and does its work flawlessly.

Through arrangement with the Gotham Knitbac Machine Corporation, all Gotham and Onyx merchants will receive preference on delivery of these new machines. Knitbac repair service will be available to the public before the end of the year.

This photograph—sent by Photogram—is the first picture of Knitbac ever to be transmitted by telegraph for publication in a newspaper.

GOTHAM SILK HOSIERY COMPANY, INC.
389 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
Factories: Philadelphia, Dover, Wharton, Passaic and New York

BY the use of Photogram—the new Postal Telegraph service—Gotham Silk Hosiery Company, Inc., was able to flash the above message and illustrations yesterday from New York City to Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Atlanta and Boston. This service is now available to Postal Telegraph customers in any of these eight cities.

Postal Telegraph offices in Atlanta will accept for transmission by Photogram anything that a camera can photograph.

Photograms for Messages . . . Photograms for Pictures

POSTAL TELEGRAPH

(THE MACKAY SYSTEM)

PLANE PASSENGER SERVICE DAILY N. Y. TO WASHINGTON

New York, September 10.—(AP)—Daily airplane passenger service between New York and Washington started today when Clarence Chamberlin, trans-Atlantic flier, took off in his Loening amphibian plane at 11:36 a. m., carrying four passengers. He expected to reach Washington in two hours and a half and to start his return flight this afternoon.

HUGHES ACCEPTS PLACE ON COURT AT THE HAGUE

Geneva, September 10.—(AP)—In a message to the Associated Press today Charles Evans Hughes said he deemed it a privilege to serve on the permanent court of international justice, to which he was elected by the League of Nations Saturday. Mr. Hughes' message, in response to a telegram informing him of his election, said: "I thank you for your telegram. I am highly honored by my election as judge of the permanent court of international justice and it will be a privilege to serve. I have the deepest interest in the work of the court." Mr. Hughes' formal acceptance of the post was also transmitted to the assembly of the league. It was presented some little time after his telegram to the Associated Press had been received.

A Good PRESCRIPTION For LOSS OF WEIGHT

That USED by New York hospital physician with conspicuous success in thousands of cases before making any public announcement of its beneficial effects. People in far away places heard of this famous, strengthening and flesh building prescription and began using it with excellent results. Viogen—a rich in Calcium and Phosphorus and other valuable tonics and digestive agents—essential in building blood, bone and tissue, restoring the vital powers and in overcoming that weak, tired, listless, nervous feeling. It will make you EAT, SLEEP and FEEL better. Sold by Jacobs and leading druggists everywhere.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
Atlanta affiliated with MACYS, New York

Extraordinary Sale!

Triple-Plated
Hollow Ware

$4.49

Usually $5.95 to $10.00

The same quality and pattern as our regular stock—but specially purchased—and so marked at this surprisingly low price. Every piece guaranteed for 10 years.

One Initial Engraved Without Charge

Selection Includes—

- Pitchers
- Baskets
- Meat Platters
- Steak Platters
- Covered Chop Dishes
- Gravy Boat and Tray
- Sugar and Creams
- Centerpiece With Top
- Bowls
- Ice Tubs
- Ice Pails
- Candlesticks
- Relish Platters
- Round Waiters
- Oblong Trays
- Vegetable Dishes

Silverware,
Street Floor

Fitzhugh Knox & Sons Insurance

REAL ESTATE, RENTING, BUILDING AND LOANS

809 Norris Bldg. WALnut 8947

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the six months ending June 30, 1928, of the condition of the URBAINE FIRE INSURANCE CO.

OF PARIS, FRANCE
Organized under the laws of the Republic of France, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.

Principal Office—140 William St., New York City, N. Y.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.

Amount of Deposit $300,000.00

II. ASSETS.

Total Assets of Company (actual cash market value) $7,578,717.95

III. LIABILITIES.

Total Liabilities $7,578,717.95

IV. INCOME DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1928.

Total Income $2,912,948.83

V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1928.

Total Disbursements $3,010,224.13

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF NEW YORK—COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, W. H. Gould, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is acting for Fred S. James & Co., U. S. Managers, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

W. H. GOULD.

Acting for Fred S. James & Co., U. S. Managers.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 5th day of September, 1928.

(Seal) L. A. McBRIDE, Notary Public, New York County, N. Y.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone WA 4565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily and 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPT. 11, 1928.

J. B. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

The Constitution is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hottel's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner); Shultz News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

YIELD GUESSING SHOULD STOP.

It is little less than criminal for the government, at the beginning of the cotton marketing season, to predict the gross yield of the belt.

Such predictions, as that made Saturday, which cost the producers millions of dollars, can be nothing more than guesses, and yet bearing the official stamp of the federal department of agriculture the market must necessarily be affected.

The last bearish report was simply a reproduction of a similar report at the beginning of the ginning season in 1927, and also in 1926.

It is a peculiar fact that bullish reports generally come at a time when the farmers have sold their production, and the cotton is, to a large extent, in the hands of speculators.

Every condition points to a gross yield much lower than the last guess of 14,459,000 bales, which exceeded private expert estimates by nearly 2,000,000 bales.

Regardless of what may be thought as to possible irregularity, if not scandal, the yield guesses are wrong, and should be stopped.

Congressional investigations will do no good. They have been made before.

What congress should do immediately upon the convening of the winter session is to repeal the law that authorizes such forecasts, especially during the ginning season, when ginning reports are issued by the census bureau.

The acreage guesses, that do not take into account the abandoned acreage, should also be stopped.

There is no excuse for any of them other than the giving of jobs to an army of field men, most of which jobs are purely political.

On the other hand the present system invites corruption, whether there is any associated with it or not, and the farmers are invariably made to pay the bill.

A PANAMA CANAL MEMORIAL.

A proposition to commemorate the building of the Panama canal will be pressed in the forthcoming session of congress.

The bill contemplates the erection at a suitable site in the Canal Zone of a beautiful building along classic lines, in which there would be memorials of all those who contributed to the construction of the canal, and a museum of the plans, mechanisms and models used in the prosecution of the great work. The physical story of the gigantic enterprise would begin with the building by Americans of the Panama railroad in 1849-55, then with the incidents of the French efforts to realize the canal from 1879 to 1904, and then the successful work of the Americans from 1904 to 1914. Authorization for $2,500,000 as the total cost of the memorial will be asked and should be granted.

The Panama canal is one of the world-changing accomplishments of the American people. Its value to the comities and commerce of the peoples of civilization is incalculable and will increase as the years come and go. The great transaction should be magnificently memorialized.

HOOVERIZING IN TENNESSEE.

The decision of Candidate Hoover to stage his southern campaign appearance at Elizabethton, in eastern Tennessee, will puzzle practical politicians of both parties. It instantly recalls the adage of "carrying coals to Newcastle."

That particular end of Tennessee has been almost steadfastly republican "since the year one." The late Bob Taylor, native of the region, is the only democrat who has broken the rule and secured an election to congress from the first district, and he did it by fiddling his way over an Ohio carpetbagger.

The vote in that district in 1926 was 10,553 republican and 4,439 democratic, and in the second, or Knoxville, district the vote two years ago was 11,789 republican and 20 democratic.

Now what gain Mr. Hoover can hope to make for himself and his party by going to eastern Tennessee is a subject for curious guessing. One would naturally think that he would make his drive where there are democratic majorities to be converted.

But "for ways that are dark" the republican party is peculiar—and this Hooverizing in Tennessee is a conspicuous case in point.

SLANDER CAMPAIGN REACTING.

Chairman Work's denial that the republican national organization is responsible for the character of the campaign being conducted by religious bigots against Governor Smith emphasizes the truthfulness of the old saying that sometimes one must be saved from friends. Mr. Hoover is now feeling the effect of it.

Whether the national committee conducting the republican campaign is responsible or not, or whether any of the campaign managers are responsible or not, it is undeniable that encouragement was given to the movement in the south to disintegrate the democratic party from within.

The prohibition issue has been used as a smoke screen. The action of Bishop Cannon and others in leading a so-called anti-Smith democratic campaign in several southern states was inspired solely by religious prejudice, and Senator Moses made bold the statement that Hoover would carry several southern states by this process of knitting the democratic candidate by party bolters. Now the reaction has set in against Mr. Hoover, and no one sees it more clearly than the chief of his campaign organization.

Before the election the tide of public sentiment will be running high in condemnation of the methods being used by the so-called "Hoover democrats." Behind it is the plan to capitalize religious prejudice.

A POSSIBLE PRIZE WINNER.

Some days ago, in a western city, a young fellow all lit up with "moonshine" confessed his plight to a policeman and requested the cop to apply the proper punishment by kicking him along the street for the length of a block. The cop obliged him heartily and the chap thanked him cordially and went away to sober up.

In that young fellow we see a possible winner of Bre'r Bill Durant's $25,000 prize for an approved plan to make prohibition prohibit.

We can imagine no more sovereign cure for drinking bootleg stuff than to invest every policeman and constable with the imperative duty of kicking the gable-end of every person they discover doing a moonshine wobble on the highway, or on whose breath they scent the attar of synthetic gin or unseasoned "caww."

They would be few, indeed, who would risk being given a second ride on a policeman's brogans down Peachtree or Whitehall streets.

THE BADGERS MAKE BREAKS.

The mixed political pickles that came out of the Wisconsin primary last week do not seem to taste good to either the regulars or irregulars of the republican party.

The state of which "Battling Bob" La Follette was overlord so long has gone into political solution. The La Follette "progressive" ranks have disintegrated seriously and the "conservatives" have been able to come back and nominate their candidate for governor.

The present governor, who won two years ago in a revolt from the La Follette sanhedrin and sought re-election, failed miserably. A dark and very fresh horse put up by the conservatives won the gubernatorial nomination over the man strongly backed by La Follette and his partisans. But La Follette himself was nominated for re-election to the United States senate by a rousing majority.

And, by the way, young La Follette is not dishonoring his distinguished father's record in the senate, but is showing the powers of developing and forceful statesmanship. He deserved renomination.

But the muddled-up Wisconsin conditions are puzzling to the national campaign managers. The best they can do is to list the state as "doubtful."

Douglas Oliver, our Boy Scout, who was with the Johnson expedition in Africa, is at Paris en route home. He is quoted by cable as saying: "I got my lion." Which is more gratifying to all of us than if the lion got him.

Young Mr. Coolidge steadfastly declines to answer the inquiries of reporters: Are you to go to work? Are you to be married? If he answered the latter question he would answer both.

A general of the British army, seeing service in India, Egypt, Greece and France, at the age of 59 years is obliged to wash dishes to make a living. His distinguished service medal probably secured him the position.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Crusader

Sons.

In the heart of the Caucasus mountains there lives a race of people known as the Swantians. A party of ten ethnologists and explorers is preparing to leave London for "Swantia" to learn if there is any truth in rumors that the Swantians are descendants of Crusaders hundreds of years ago, when on their way back to Europe from Palestine. It is said that the present inhabitants of the district retain Christianity and the culture of western Europe of the Crusade period. In their homes old suits of armor are still to be found. Their speech, their dress and their customs are said to be strikingly medieval. The exploring party will make a collection of Swantian songs and folk-lore.

Bambi

Talks.

Great popularity has come to Herr Felix Salten's story of the life of a deer in a forest and the forest animals. Unexpectedly, too, because animals which converse in human words usually seem merely ridiculous. An excellent translation has been made of the poetic delicacy of Herr Salten's style is fully apparent to the English reader. The deer's name is Bambi. Bambi's first minutes on earth are described: "The slight thing staggered a little. Under the strokes of her tongue, which softly touched them here and there, he drew him together and stood still. His little red nose, fine white spots, and on his vague baby face there still a deep, vague expression." Bambi lives a life in which the greatest danger is "he" man the hunter. Finally his old adviser, an aged stag, takes him to see a poacher lying dead. The stag says: "Do you see, Bambi, do you see how he's lying dead, like one of us. Listen, Bambi, he isn't all powerful as they say. Everything that lives and grows doesn't come from him. He isn't short of us. He's just a man, like us. He has the same fears, the same needs, and suffers in the same way. He can be killed like us, and then he lies helpless in the ground, like the rest of us, as you see him now."

Paris Never Knew.

A hitherto unrelated incident in the life of Napoleon has been discovered by the Abbe Tossier. According to this account, Napoleon, after his coronation in Notre Dame, decided that he would also wear the crown of the Lombard kings, and characteristically made immediate preparations for his journey to Milan. A great cortege of vehicles set out from Paris. It was Napoleon's intention to take the road through the Alps to Susa, and despite the warning that a storm was brewing, he adhered to his intention. He was well on his way when the storm broke. Incessant falls of snow soon rendered progress difficult, and Napoleon was eventually compelled to leave his horse first for a shepherd, then for a sedan chair. Progress was slow and the cold was intense. One afternoon the soldiers fell, while several of the others in the rear failed to carry to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he cried, "I have escaped so many dangers, and now I am to die of cold!" He was carried to the nearest refuge, where he recovered consciousness. Realizing his position, he cried, "Mon Dieu! What a state for me to be in!" Later he was taken to the monastery of Mont Cenis, where a warm welcome was extended by the emperor, who he intensely, and felt his condition to be hopeless. "Alas," he

ADAMS FORESEES DECISIVE VICTORY

G. C. Adams, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, will carry more than 120 of the 161 counties of Georgia in his race, according to an estimate made public Monday by the Adams campaign headquarters. This estimate was made "after a careful check" of reports received from the 161 counties and after making "every concession demanded by conservatism," it was stated.

"The Adams' statement is as follows: 'After a careful check of reports we have received from the 161 counties of Georgia and after making every concession that conservatism demands to the opposition, we believe that Mr. Adams will carry at least 128 counties in the primary election Wednesday.'"

"We believe that the people of Georgia have tried Eugene Talmadge and have found him wanting. We have convinced the people in our campaign that he is not fit to hold this position; that his unfitness has wrecked an important state department, which is the most important arm of the government as far as the farmers of Georgia are concerned."

"We are certain that Talmadge, in his appearances on the stump, through the intemperance of his remarks and through the reiteration of slanderous charges against his opponent, which have been repeatedly nailed and proved to be untrue, has sustained through his own actions all our charges. We believe that the people who have heard him speak and have witnessed his antics on the stump believe wholeheartedly with us that he is arrogant, domineering, ignorant, conceited, overbearing, selfish, bickering and quarrelsome."

"His record in office has proved every one of these charges to be true and he has never denied one of them. 'The time has come for the farmers and their allied business interests to begin building a real department of agriculture. It will never be done as long as Eugene Talmadge is commissioner, because he has shown that he will not cooperate with anybody, even his own employees. Adams can and will cooperate with the farmers and business interests in building a great department and his public record shows this.'"

"Just now Talmadge is stooping to acts that will justify impeachment proceedings against him, no matter what the outcome of this race. He is using his employees, state stationery, state multigraphing and mimeographing machines, typewriters and materials as well as postage in sending out the fertilizer bulletin two months ahead of time for his private campaign interests. Any official who would not keep separate headquarters from his state office, a trust imposed in him by the people, should be defeated for this offense if for no other."

"As the day of the election approaches we are confident of a sweeping victory for Adams, a victory which will bring the converted Talmadge and his swaggering crew of henchmen down to earth and a victory which will reach a home where the people and officials who are exalted by the vote of the people and then become such swelled heads and such egotists that they think they are doing jobs for life. The time to put an end to the reign of misadministration, to the bedlam of ignorance and incompetency that Georgia now calls its department of agriculture, arrives Wednesday, and we believe that the people will rise from the mountains, the sea and send little Eugene Talmadge, the lawyer in farmers' clothing, back to his petty legal bickering and quarreling around the courthouse yard and McKean, where he belongs. And we show this."

$1 DOWN Buys Any Size BRUNSWICK TIRES

Protected
12 Months
Against Any Road Hazard
Philco Batteries
Battery Charging and Service

Gibbs Kendall Tire Company
73 Ivy St. WA. 4414

BRUNSWICK TIRES

Fine Jewelry
An exceptionally attractive ring is set with Chinese jade center stone with a baguette and 5 other diamonds on either side. The mounting of white gold is exquisitely dainty in design. $350.00.
Delicate platinum chain with pendant set with 2 square sapphires and diamond in the effective design. $140.00.
Diamond-platinum bracelet made up of a series of oval and octagon shaped links centered with diamonds. $650.00.
Here you will find a variety of beautiful pieces of fine jewelry.
Every piece of which is the newest style and the designs are elegant in every detail.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.
For forty-one years the leading jewelers of the South
111 Peachtree St. Established 1887

TO THE FULTON DEMOCRATIC CLUB 323 Piedmont Hotel, Atlanta, Ga.

On behalf of honesty and courage please enroll my name as supporting the Democratic party.

Name _____ Address _____ Ward or District _____
(The Club is open to all white voters of Fulton County.)

believe they will turn to G. C. Adams, capable, efficient, alert, a man with a vision, a man who understands the farmers' problems, a man who successfully operates an 800-acre farm in Georgia at a time when his very success proves his ability, and will place Mr. Adams in the office where he will cooperate with the best leadership a best thought in building up a real department of agriculture."

HARDMAN PLAYING BOTH SIDES, CLAIM

Governor L. G. Hardman is "playing fast and loose with both sides in the presidential campaign," according to a statement made public Monday by Roy V. Harris, manager of the campaign of State Senator E. D. Rivers, who is opposing Governor Hardman for reelection. Mr. Harris declares that the governor and T. Hicks Fort, one of his campaign managers, are "handling the Smith vote," while Sam A. Nunn and T. C. Hardman, the governor's brother, are "handling the Hoover vote."

The statement is as follows: "Governor Hardman has admitted that he is playing fast and loose with both sides in the presidential campaign. 'When engaging a man or woman to handle a definite piece of business for me, I am definite and efficient, but this is the governor's new statement. Governor Hardman and Mr. Hicks Fort's definite business was to handle the Smith vote while T. C. Hardman and Sam Nunn were to handle the Hoover vote. Can duplicity and double dealing go further? We believe that the people who are going to vote for Smith will resent the fact that the governor engaged Mr. Fort for that definite piece of work and the people who are going to vote for Hoover will resent the fact that Mr. Nunn was engaged for that definite piece of work. Honest, true Georgians who will vote as they please for president in the light of their conscience and duty will resent this statement of the governor, which says I have no conviction, I have simply arranged my campaign to catch coming and going."

"Can men be engaged to definitely handle both the Smith and Hoover vote in Georgia? Not if we know Georgia. Thousands of honest men and women who can be handled will vote for Ed Rivers, because they know that he played fair with them. Again, the attention of the people of this state to the shameful effort now made to debauch their electorate. Behind closed doors at the Henry Grady Hotel, Carrington, the executive secretary, devotes time paid for by the state and draws the checks. In another room, the governor's famed campaign manager and a recent candidate for governor, 'Beck' Chamlee, sees the men from different counties and pays them in currency."

"At the capitol, the commissioner of revenues, John M. Vandiver, whips about the state and has forgotten that his business is to collect delinquent taxes as he takes his employees and whips them away to different parts of the state in state-owned cars at the state's expense with great bundles of currency in the automobiles."

"Affidavit after affidavit is reaching headquarters. We believe that Governor Hardman is expending more than $100,000 in this campaign. We know by affidavit where more than 25,000 has been spent in five counties and there are 161 counties in Georgia. We are gathering evidence everywhere and the next legislature shall investigate whether the governorship of Georgia is a matter of cash and carry. We have the evidence and it is accumulating hourly. Governor Hardman has no reliance but his check book."

"Our friends are on the ground everywhere. Governor can not and will not be bought and after the next session of the general assembly, our investigation will so outrage the moral sense of our people as to demand that the methods of a millionaire in the 1926 and 1928 campaigns will never be repeated."

"We urge our people to be on the ground, to watch and to secure all evidence possible of the improper use of money and to send such evidence to us at headquarters for later use. Watch every movement of the Hardman forces. Forestall and prevent corruption."

Governor Hardman has admitted the truth of every charge we have made against his record.

"Eternal vigilance is the price we must pay for victory on September 12, 1928."

"MYSTERY" PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CIVITANS

Featuring the regular meeting of the Civitan club at 12:30 o'clock today, in the Atlanta Athletic club, will be a mystery entertainment program arranged by Harry Root, it was announced Monday. Elaborate plans have been made for the program, details of which were not announced.

17 PERSONS KILLED WHEN PARIS TRAIN HITS A FREIGHT

Vienna, September 10.—(United News.)—Reliable reports from Prague tonight said 17 persons had been killed when the Paris-Budapest express collided with a freight train. A false signal was blamed for the accident.

The trains were running at about 40 miles an hour near the railway station of Salza, near Ludenburg. At least 33 persons were injured. The Czechoslovak minister of railways went to the scene in an airplane.

New Air Feat.
Auckland, N. Z., September 11.—(Tuesday)—(United News.)—Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles P. T. Ulm, California-Australia fliers, completed the first crossing of the Tasmanian sea when they landed their tri-motored monoplane, Southern Cross, here early today.

Take BACK for PAIN
10¢ & 25¢

WRIGHT IS LAUDED BY AUGUSTA PAPER

Praise for the record he has made as an official of Georgia for fifty years is given to General William A. Wright by the Augusta Chronicle in an editorial appearing in that paper Monday. The statement is made in the editorial that General Wright is a candidate upon whom all people can agree, and his reelection is strongly recommended.

The Augusta paper reviews the unique war record made by General Wright as a Confederate soldier, and also reviews the long record of efficient service he has made in the office of comptroller general.

"All of us agree on General Wright. 'There may be division of sentiment in regard to some of the issues and candidates that will come before the people of Georgia on Wednesday, but all of us over here in Augusta, and we hope throughout all Georgia, agree on Comptroller General William A. Wright, beloved veteran of nearly fifty years in the office which he has honored, one of the few survivors of a holocaust of more than sixty years ago when he lost a limb in the line of the fray, and a man who is universally esteemed and beloved. It is unfortunate that any man should oppose General Wright for his high office, for it seems that reverence for him, due to his distinguished services in behalf of his native state and of the Confederate States of America, would have stopped any man who might have been inclined to try to succeed him.'"

"If General Wright had been incompetent at any stage, if he had been merely holding the office on account of his age and previous services, it might have been a different matter, but he is vigorous and competent, alert as in the days of yore, and he conducts his high office with the highest degree of competency and in addition, he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we cannot expect him to go on forever since it is twilight for his life, and he is old, and he is a man of the greatest gentility of bearing that is a cherished possession of a day and generation that has gone by. In our mind's eye we think we can see him as a gallant soldier who wore the gray, with a leg shot away in the heat of carnage, and thinking that death is only a few hours away, his only wish was that he had two lives instead of one to give for country. Happily his life was spared, and he is one of the few heroes of that awful carnage, who has been left to us. We are privileged to vote for him day after tomorrow, we hope it will not be the last time, yet it may be, for we

FLYNT REITERATES TAG BILL DENIAL

Judge J. J. Flynt has disproved charges made by his opponent, George H. Carwell, to the effect that Judge Flynt voted against a bill providing for county distribution of automobile license tags while serving in the legislature last summer, but notwithstanding this refutation the Carwell forces are still making such a charge, according to a statement made public Monday by John I. Kelley, manager of the Flynt campaign for secretary of state. The Kelley statement is as follows: "One of George H. Carwell's last minute circulars, containing this statement: 'His opponent, Judge Flynt, opposed the local distribution of automobile license tags only last summer. His record in black and white stares him in the face,' has found its way into my office."

"It matters not to Mr. Carwell that this statement is false; that no such record exists; that Representative Pope in a letter published in the press a few days ago, stated over his own signature, that I favored the local distribution of automobile license tags, connected with Representative Pope, who was the author of one of the bills, and assisted him in every way to bring about its enactment into law, even to going to the extent of calling on the secretary of state to enlist his support in its behalf; that I have repeatedly challenged him to make an affidavit to the statement that he is wilfully, deliberately and persistently reiterating, knowing it to be false, but not having the manhood to correct or retract it."

"In view of this studied attempt to mislead the public on the eve of the primary, when he thinks it is too late for me to make a reply, I feel that the people will place no confidence in his boasting statement in his circular to the effect that he is efficient and honest."

"J. J. FLYNT."

LOCAL POSTOFFICE CLERKS TO INSTALL 7 NEW OFFICIALS

New officers of Atlanta Branch No. 42 of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks will be installed at a meeting of the branch at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in the Francis-Virginia tea room. J. M. Mowell is the newly elected president. Other new officers of the branch are O. L. Alderman, first vice president; R. B. Mitchell, second vice president; Mrs. E. S. Carter, third vice president; Miss Myrtice Hamilton, recording secretary; J. W. Clonts, financial secretary; G. W. Cleveland, insurance secretary, and J. A. Lance, treasurer.

Miss Myrtle Hardy and Miss Lola Hutchinson, delegates of the local branch to the national convention at Cincinnati, Ohio, last week, have returned and will give their report at the meeting Saturday night. O. L. Alderman, secretary to Postmaster E. K. Large, was reelected third vice president of the national association, while C. P. Francisco, of New York, was reelected president.

SMITH HEIRS WIN LONG LAND CASE

A decree ordering the sale of the land for distribution of the proceeds among the heirs was handed down Monday by Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibbey in the lengthy legal battle between the descendants of Perry Smith over 26 acres of land located about seven miles north of Five Points, according to a statement issued Monday by Sam C. Crane, executor of the estate of Lou Williams, deceased.

The property was sold by Washington H. Smith, large land owner, one of his favorite slaves, Perry Smith, in 1872 or 1873 for $435, under verbal agreement, Mr. Crane said. When Washington Smith died, Perry and his family continued to exercise ownership and occupation, and in 1894, after Perry's wife died and he married another woman named Lou, the heirs of Washington Smith sued out a dispossession warrant, but this suit was won by Perry. Mr. Crane said, Perry died and left his wife, Lou, and daughter, Della, in possession, no paper title ever being made. In 1915 the children of Perry Smith's first wife attempted to move on the land and take possession, the attempt being frustrated by Lou, who had since married again, Mr. Crane said. A restraining order prevented the children of Perry by his first wife from interfering with possession.

In 1918 Lou Williams died and in her will made Sam C. Crane executor. From 1915 on the case has been through many hearings, trials and every judge on the superior court bench for several years had some branch of the case before him. The case went from superior court to federal court when another relative of Perry Smith, claiming to be a niece, residing in Philadelphia, filed a bill in federal court, setting up a claim of interest in the land, through deed from the husband of one of Perry Smith's former children by his first wife.

Many people connected with the case have died, among them Superior Court Judges Pendleton, Bell and Ellis, 13 parties and witnesses in the case.

"This land shortly will be sold by the commissioners and the funds distributed by the decree of Judge Sibbey upon payment of the costs of court. The purchasers will no doubt be white, and the land will be developed into beautiful suburban property and free that section from the embarrassment of this litigation," Mr. Crane said.

GERMANS TO TRY TRANS-ATLANTIC AIR MAIL PLAN

Trans-Atlantic air mail will be tried out in a series of experiments with the German airship "Graf (Count) Zeppelin" during this month and October between Friedrichshafen, Germany, and Lakehurst, N. J., according to advices received Monday by Postoffice Inspector in Charge Joe P. Johnston from Postmaster General Harry S. New.

The bulletin said that the airship will bring over letters and postcards, and will carry back to Germany letters and postcards posted in this country. The letters, weighing not more than an ounce, will be carried for $1 each and postcards for 50 cents each, in addition to the regular postage and fees.

DONEHOO TO GIVE TEST OF MEMORY AT MEETING TODAY

Paul Donehoo, coroner of Fulton county, will provide the principal attraction at the regular meeting of the American Business club at 1 o'clock today at the Henry Grady hotel. Mr. Donehoo will give a demonstration of his remarkable power of memorizing figures.

AMERICAN BUSINESS CLUB MEETS TODAY

Members of the American Business club will hold their weekly meeting at 1 o'clock today, in the Henry Grady hotel. The weekly program will be in charge of Russell G. Baker.

T. C. (Tom) MARSHALL

Candidate for Legislature
Fulton County

For Place Held By Frank Hooper, Jr.

I FAVOR A PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION IN STATE AFFAIRS.

WILL APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE—PRIMARY SEPT. 12th

A Storage Cabinet

is needed in every office where neatness and order are valued. It is an attractive piece of office furniture and saves stationery and supplies from dust and pilferers. Don't you need one?

Stop in and see how handsome and useful it is. Prices? Lower than you expect.

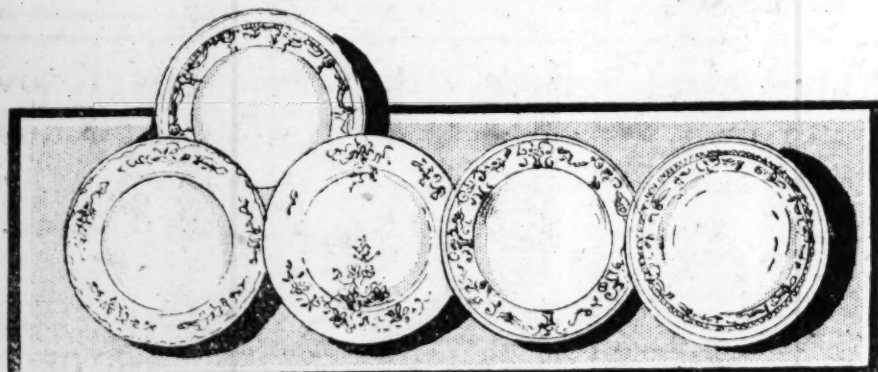

JOHN H. HARLAND COMPANY

Southeastern Headquarters for Good
Lithographing - Printing - Loose-Leaf - Office Supplies
84-86 Luckie St., N. W. Phone Walnut 5738
ATLANTA
Mail Inquiries Cordially Invited

High's Annual September

Sale of Silver, China and Glassware

Special and Extremely Skillful Buying Has Made Possible This Tremendous Outpouring of Almost Unheard-of Values in Superior Quality Silver, China and Glassware---Bringing to Women of the South an Opportunity Which Is Rare, Indeed, and Worthy Their Most Careful Consideration!

Special $1 Down Sale

Superior Open Stock Dinnerware

32-Piece Sets Priced $6.95 to $35 Set

Here are 40 beautiful open stock patterns of splendid dinnerware! Domestic, English, Haviland, Bavarian and Japanese makes! Come and select the set of your choice—you may purchase it by paying only $1 down. Balance on very easy payments.

35-Piece
Bordered Dinner Sets

$1.95 Partitioned
Relish Dishes
$1.00

Beautiful center-piece relish dishes on stands. Each with five partitions. Colored glass on lovely metal frame.

Imported Service Plates
in Four Beautiful Patterns

These service plates are unusually handsome! Four patterns with wide gold encrusted borders. Plain and covered styles. During Sale, priced $3.95 Each

$1.39 Serving Trays
Size 13x19

Attractive serving trays with wood-frames and glass bottoms. Mahogany, blue, green, red finishes. Priced $1.00

Each of these sets is a complete service for six people! Sugar and Cream set is also included in each! Four handsome new border patterns, on very fine quality white base. They go at only $7.95

Extra Special!
32-Piece Dinner Sets
$5.95 Value
$3.20

Four choicest patterns for you to select from! Priced so low that the average price for each piece is only 10c. This is a real value!

300 Fostoria
Fruit and Lily
Bowls
Reg. $1.50 Values
$1.00

Exquisite quality Fostoria glass fruit and lily bowls. Five patterns in rose, blue, green. Only 300 to go!

$1.98 Console Sets
Rose, green and orchid console sets. Three patterns in rolled edge and panel shapes. Your choice.

Special!
Iced Tea Sets
Rose and green combination iced tea sets. A jug with cover and six iced tea glasses. With green handles. Special $1.25

Beyond Comparison

Our 99c Sale Fine Glassware!

Actual Values to $1.98

Featuring Cut and Pressed Patterns
Colors: Rose, Amber, Green

Think of it! For less than a dollar you may secure one of these charming pieces! Vases, Cake Dishes, Candy Boxes, Mayonnaise Dishes, Ice Buckets, Sugar and Cream Sets, Cheese and Cracker Dishes

99c

2,000 Pieces

Fine Quality Stemware

Genuine 50c Quality

Most exquisite quality stemware! Rose glass bowls and lovely green stems! Goblets, Champagne, and Ice Tea Glasses! You save more on each one than you pay for it! They are priced only....

20c

26-Piece

Silver Sets

$7.95 Value

$5.95

Colored Glass

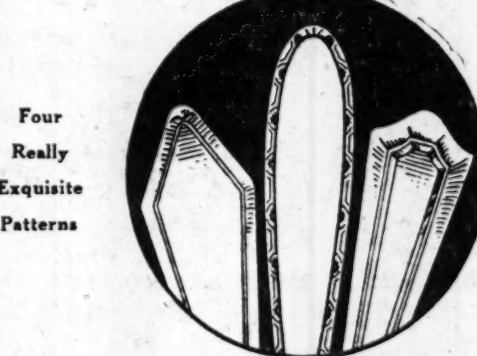

Salad Plates

6 for $1.00

Salad plates in most attractive octagon shape! Both rose and green colored. 7 1/2 inch size. 12 for $1.50.

Unusual Offering In

26-Piece Sterling Silver Sets

Solid Sterling Silver

On Our New Club Plan

$59.50

$2 Down—Balance $5 Monthly

These Sterling silver sets are the kind you can use, enjoy and be proud to own all your life time! They are in the very choicest of patterns, of the finest quality Sterling silver! Set contains 6 Knives with stainless blades, 6 Forks, Ten Spoons, Soup Spoons, a Butter Knife and Sugar Shell!

"Dixie"
"Mary Warren"
"Princess"
"Manchester"

Sterling
Silver Pieces
$2.50

Jelly Sets, Whipped Cream Sets, Pickle and Lemon Sets, Tea Balls and lovely Mayonnaise Sets in Sterling silver. Each a marvelous value!

Supreme
Sterling Pieces

Each of these will make a handsome gift—will give lasting pleasure! Sugar and Cream Sets $25.00, Lovely Console Sets $25.00, Handsome Water Pitcher $25.00, Most Artistic Baskets $22.50

Sterling
Silver Pieces
$17.50

Salad Bowls, Sandwich Platters, Bread Trays, Cake Plates and Composites compose this especially extraordinary group! Very low priced!

Very Special!
Steak Sets

$3.95

Everyone will surely be interested in seeing—then buying—these fine steak sets with guards! Only $3.95!

Use Our Easy-Payment Club Plan
In the Purchase of Your Silver!

Modernistic Silver Pieces

Mounted Sterling plated Bowls with colored handles of red, blue, gold or green! Will charm anyone with a taste for the modernistic and the unusual.... $1.49

Colored Glass

Fruit Bowls

$1.00

Lovely colored glass fruit bowls. Just as illustrated above! Of very fine quality, highly polished glassware. Priced just $1.00!

Star-Rite and Century Electrical Appliances

Values $5.50 to $6.98

Grills, Percolators, Toasters, Heating Pads and Waffle Irons! All nickel plated finish—and splendidly made! Wonderful values!

$4.50

All Fully Guaranteed

J.M. HIGH CO.

45 Years of Faithful Service and Value-giving

KELLOGG BRINGS PEACE PACT HOME

Washington, September 10.—(AP)—Bringing with him the treaty for the renunciation of war, signed by 15 powers in Paris August 27, Secretary Kellogg returned to Washington today to find that 23 additional nations had officially associated themselves with the movement to promote world peace.

Simultaneously with Mr. Kellogg's arrival came word from Paris that Soviet Russia, invited by France to adhere to the pact, had delivered its official document of adherence to the French ambassador in Moscow last Thursday, and that it would be transmitted to Washington for deposit.

Goes Direct to Office.

Anxious to get back to work after his absence of a little more than three weeks, Mr. Kellogg, apparently benefited physically by his trip, hastened direct to the state department from the train and plunged into business awaiting his attention. The voyage across the Atlantic and back and his visit to Paris and to Ireland proved something of a much-needed vacation for Mr. Kellogg, as he had no leave from duty during the summer, and at times has been the only cabinet member in Washington.

Mr. Kellogg expressed himself as being very much gratified at the rapidity with which the nations invited to adhere to the treaty have been indicating their intention to do so. He said the promotion of world peace was an international matter, and that he thought it should not be made a party issue either in the present presidential campaign or in the senate.

New Up to Senate.

With the document received safely in the state department vault, Mr. Kellogg's next concern for the treaty is its ratification by the senate. President Coolidge, it is expected, will transmit it to the senate as soon as that body convenes in December, where administration leaders are confident of favorable and prompt action.

Concerning the Franco-British naval agreement, Secretary Kellogg said he knew no more about it now than when he started for Paris. He announced his intention before leaving Washington that he was going to Paris for the sole purpose of signing the anti-war treaty, and would not discuss any other matters.

CONTRACTOR SHOT BY REALTY BROKER

Continued from First Page.

estate broker told a babbling and incoherent story of the shooting. Doctors who attended his fractured ribs said they were positive that he had been drinking. A coroner's inquest into the shooting was held at the residence of the victim, who was placed against him pending the outcome of Hanson's inquest.

Caldwell had a sanity trial in March, 1927, but the jury found him sane. Since that time he and Mrs. Caldwell have been living apart, she entering suit for divorce several months ago, obtaining a court order for alimony of $100 a month, which since has been reduced to $50 a month.

During the sanity trial Caldwell created a furor in court when he attacked Walter C. Hendrix, one of Mrs. Caldwell's lawyers. He was arrested and charged with assault after this episode, but never went to trial.

Witnessed by Scores.

The shooting Monday occurred shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon and was witnessed by the downtown office workers on their way to their West End homes. Two street cars loaded with passengers happened along at the time and both were delayed about a quarter of an hour as the passengers, hearing the shots and fearing a riot, sought cover behind the street car seats.

Scores of pedestrians were on the street, usually a busy corner at that hour, and several rushed to the running board of Caldwell's car and jerked him from the driver's seat. Patrolmen hurrying to the scene immediately started to make a list of the witnesses.

"You don't need any witnesses," Caldwell is reported to have shouted. "I shot him, and did my best."

Hanson, who lives at 1238 Peachtree street, has been in Atlanta about a year. His home is believed to be in North Dakota. Caldwell maintains real estate offices at 830 Gordon street.

CARNES SPENT $13,000 ON PICTURE ACTRESSES

Continued from First Page.

said that she had made a financial arrangement with Carnes which enabled her to pursue her efforts to obtain recognition in the motion picture world. Police of Los Angeles had definitely known that they did not suspect the young woman of any participation in the alleged misdeeds of Carnes but her home is being watched and Carnes will be apprehended and held for the Atlanta authorities if he attempts to flee.

As Assistant Solicitor-General John Hudson and J. Walker LeCraw prepared to lay the entire Carnes case before the grand jury another development was reported from Baltimore where the home office of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, which bonded Carnes to the extent of $50,000, a claim for which has been filed by the mission board, announced that a nationwide search had been inaugurated for the missing man by private detectives employed by the company. It also was reported that a substantial reward had been offered by the company for information leading to the apprehension of Carnes.

Many Are Subpoenaed.

The following have been subpoenaed by the solicitor-general's office to appear before the grand jury at its session today to present oral and documentary evidence which officials said Monday was certain to result in the indictment of Carnes:

Dr. Luther B. Christie, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church and president of the home mission board; Dr. W. H. Major, pastor of Carnes' own church, the Capital Avenue Baptist and recording secretary of the mission board; W. W. Gaines, attorney and member of the board; Dr. B. D. Gray, secretary emeritus and acting treasurer, who was executive secretary of the board during Carnes' nine-year tenure as treasurer; E. L. Harling, P. S. Etheridge and B. L. Bugg, Atlanta businessmen who are members of the board; Walter R. Brown, lawyer and dean of the Second Baptist; Dr. Arch C. Cree, now acting executive secretary of the board who has been in charge of its administrative machinery since the Carnes shortages were revealed last week; A. G. Smith, prominent Atlanta Baptist layman, and A. N. Patton, R. B. Page, of Ernst & Ernst, the company now auditing the accounts of Carnes and employed by the mission board to check on all recorded financial arrangements made by Carnes in the name of his employing board.

The assistant solicitor-general in charge of the presentation of the Carnes evidence refused to say Monday whether they had any new or unpublished facts to offer the jury or that they would ask his indictment solely on the documentary evidence of the misappropriations already made public through the press.

The calling of Mr. Smith leads some to believe that further details not known to the public will be presented to the jury. Smith, it is said, has not taken part in the board discussions and all evidence which may be used in producing and framing an indictment.

Search for Carnes.

As search for Carnes was widened and formal criminal action was being prepared members of the Southern Baptist convention Monday reported that special contributions were being made to the board's offices in the Wynne-Claughton building, the result of an appeal made Sunday in the churches in the city.

Likewise Atlanta pastors reported generous responses to the appeal for funds to locate Sunday in the city.

Dr. Cree said Monday, "We are getting their checks to the missionary workers as fast as the office force can handle them. It is good to see such an amount of generous response to our appeal but we will need more funds immediately. I think the $250,000 we asked for will be obtained within another week or two. Then we can put over another drive and through systematic campaigning obtain the balance of the $1,000,000 needed for the completion of the defalcations."

Sonia Norida Tells of Meeting Carnes.

By MONROE LATHEP.

Special Correspondent of The Constitution.

Hollywood, Calif., September 10.—Sonia Norida, a beautiful Norwegian actress, who is alleged to have been the mistress of the missing man, told the story of her meeting with Carnes today.

Sonia Norida, and Mrs. Louise Pope, of Atlanta, were found this afternoon at the St. Francis hotel in Hollywood and talked freely of the movie aspirations that led Clinton S. Carnes to help the former in her ambition to be a great star.

The women are living in much more modest quarters than when they first came to the capital of filmland. They say that they have received no money from Carnes for two months past and as Sonia's hope of quick fame met with steady discouragement, they moved from the fashionable Roosevelt hotel, where they first took up their quarters.

The Roosevelt is owned by Douglas Fairbanks, Joseph Schenck and other movie capitalists and numerous well-known players reside there. But they paid little heed to the Norwegian beauty, and gave less help. She was only one of a horde of hopeful girls who have streamed into Hollywood with the same high ambitions.

Tells of Meeting Carnes.

Sonia has succeeded in getting only a few small parts in pictures and is not now connected with any studio. "I met Mr. Carnes socially last winter," she said, "and when I mentioned in his presence the hopes that were uppermost in my mind he said he thought they were justified; that I was of a type that ought to make a mark in the movie world."

"I told him I had come to America from my home town, Oslo, Norway, with that one idea, but that with my limited means I could not hope to finance myself in California while waiting for success. It was his own proposition that he would undertake this under a business arrangement."

"His terms were that I should sign a contract whereby he would share financially in my success. I agreed. Naturally I grasped the opportunity. Apparently it was an ideal contract with a man who stood high in his community and was seemingly of the highest character."

"While I was hesitating about striking out alone, Mrs. Pope's brother died in Los Angeles and she made plans to come west. Everything seemed to be conspiring to aid me. We came to Los Angeles. I have since been living with her and her niece."

No System of Payments.

"Nothing was said in the contract with Mr. Carnes about the manner in which he would advance financial help. He said verbally that he would take care of that as I needed it. And he sent me money from time to time, never any large amount. The last came only a short while before he disappeared. He never wrote any letters."

"When the news came out that he was a defaulter nobody could have been kinder to me than Mrs. Pope and myself. He was always reserved and extremely courteous with us, and we really did not know him very well, only as an acquaintance who, we thought, was impelled by benevolent interest in ambitious young people. Sonia made her explanation of the affairs, concurred in the girl's statements. Adding that she had known Carnes as a friend of her husband for the past five years. He bore so good a reputation, said Mrs. Pope, that Miss Norida had no hesitation in entering into an arrangement with him."

Praises Miss Norida.

"Miss Norida is a girl above reproach," added Mrs. Pope, "and it will be a cruel injustice to her to draw any inferences from this situation that are unjustified by the facts."

As to the report that she had received money from Carnes, Mrs. Pope denied it unqualifiedly. She also denied any knowledge of Lois Griffin. Another girl who is said to have partaken of Carnes' largesse, Miss Griffin could not be located today and no one could be found who knew her identity. She is not a player of any rank in Hollywood.

The niece of Mrs. Pope, who for a time resided with her and Miss Norida, is Emily Wilson, of New York, who has returned to the east. She was not acquainted with Carnes, Mrs. Pope said.

DR. W. L. PIERCE TAKEN BY DEATH

Continued from First Page.

conference, was completing his four years of service in the north Atlanta district. His father was a Methodist ist preacher and he was the nephew of Bishop George Pierce.

DR. W. L. PIERCE,
Presiding elder of the North Atlanta district of the North Georgia Methodist conference, south.

Dr. Pierce had served in the north Georgia conference since about 1895, and had filled charges in the towns of LaGrange, Elberton, Athens, Marietta and St. John's district. In each of these he served a four-year period and was completing a fourth year in the north Atlanta district at the time of his death.

Dr. Pierce was the brother of Dr. A. M. Pierce, editor of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate, and widely known in ecclesiastical circles in the south.

Dr. Pierce leaves his widow, four daughters, Miss Lucile Pierce, member of the faculty of Bass Junior High school; Miss Zula Pierce, who is teaching school in Arizona; Mrs. D. C. Carnes, of Macon, and Mrs. T. C. Maxwell, of Elberton, and a son, Dr. Lovie Pierce, of the Presbyterian hospital in New York city.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Monday night. Burial and funeral directors are in charge.

CARNES SENDS GIRL TO SEEK FILM FAME

Continued from First Page.

news to mother. Soon there would be no more of the overall factory. A beautiful Hollywood home for Mrs. Griffin. Why not? Didn't May Pickford's mother live in a swell house?

Off went Mamie Lois to New York with Mrs. Pope, with her small capital and an eye for more. But New York isn't Hollywood and the eastern studio chiefs do not recognize talent like they do on the west coast. Mamie Lois with Carnes, now so eminent and within a few months she returned along with Mrs. Pope, to Atlanta. Surely some kind-hearted Atlanta would recognize Mamie Lois' talents and provide the money necessary to equip her for a Hollywood venture.

Mamie Lois, who is said to have partaken of Carnes' largesse, is shown here.

In Atlanta they met Carnes, by all evidence, true and false, a big, big business man but high up in the councils of his church and churches as organizations do down on the movies, that was it could be arranged. And it was.

Back again to tell mother about this. This time mother was skeptical. Somehow the wisdom of the years told her that all was not well. Who was this benefactor? In order that his fellow churchmen might not learn of his movie venture all were sworn to secrecy and Mrs. Griffin did not even learn his name.

In Hollywood, Mamie Lois and Mrs. Pope, who also through arrangement continued to receive the monthly checks from Carnes, The Atlanta end of the arrangement worked superbly. But in Hollywood the directors just wouldn't tumble.

On and on the trio stayed and on and on came the Carnes checks—until August 15. Then Carnes vanished and so did the checks.

Out in Hollywood Mamie Lois is stranded now. High up on the bar she still dreams of seeing in lights at the head of Peacemaker street.

"Lois Griffin, Atlanta's Own in 'Heroes of Tomorrow'."

But she is skeptical and she is apologetic; still she is a widow, and she prays.

some of the club members, whereupon Mrs. Goodman declared the meeting adjourned.

The spirit of good fellowship and harmony prevailed after the adjournment and there was a friendly intermingling of the membership. The house committee served refreshments and congenial groups gathered in the banquet hall discussing subjects apart from the incident of the afternoon.

Dr. Bricker withdrew from the assembly hall shortly after he made the invocation. Mrs. P. H. Jeter, president of the Atlanta Drama League, was to have read "Crossing the Bar," by Tennyson, and Mrs. Charles Howland's vocal numbers were omitted.

Mrs. Goodman intended to continue the year's program and introduced the officers. She handled the situation in a very tactful and dignified manner and her rulings were received in a most orderly respectful manner by the faction favoring the reading of the minutes at the Monday meeting.

The president continued to hold the chair throughout the afternoon until 5 o'clock. Seated with her on the platform were Mrs. Shepherd Bryan, first vice president; Mrs. Victor Kreighaber, second vice president; Mrs. R. L. Reed, secretary; Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, treasurer; Mrs. T. G. Delph, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Earl S. Kauffman, assistant corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John McLaughlin, auditor. Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, the club parliamentarian, was not present, being absent from the city.

London, September 10.—(AP)—A number of people can say fairies but "are ashamed to say so because of the foolish incredulity with which their observations would be greeted," Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, novelist, believes.

Addressing the congress of the International Spiritualists association, he asserted also that fairies can be photographed and displayed a photograph to show a fairy presenting a flower to a little girl. He also showed pictures of wool clothes dancing and bathing in a woodland pool and a girl playing with a gnome who danced in rhythm to her handclapping.

Sir Arthur recounted that he had been in spiritualist contact with the novelist Joseph Conrad. "He asked me to do something for him," he said. "It seemed as if his spirit was uneasy and he wanted to link up with the world once more."

Sir Arthur also claimed to have received a long message from Earl Haig three days after the field marshal's death and said: "I asked his relatives, whom the message concerned, whether they would like to see the message but they did not reply. Earl Haig was a spiritualist and I cannot help feeling very much for him in the circumstances."

CONAN DOYLE LINKS FAIRIES AND SPIRITS

some of the club members, whereupon Mrs. Goodman declared the meeting adjourned.

The spirit of good fellowship and harmony prevailed after the adjournment and there was a friendly intermingling of the membership. The house committee served refreshments and congenial groups gathered in the banquet hall discussing subjects apart from the incident of the afternoon.

Dr. Bricker withdrew from the assembly hall shortly after he made the invocation. Mrs. P. H. Jeter, president of the Atlanta Drama League, was to have read "Crossing the Bar," by Tennyson, and Mrs. Charles Howland's vocal numbers were omitted.

Mrs. Goodman intended to continue the year's program and introduced the officers. She handled the situation in a very tactful and dignified manner and her rulings were received in a most orderly respectful manner by the faction favoring the reading of the minutes at the Monday meeting.

The president continued to hold the chair throughout the afternoon until 5 o'clock. Seated with her on the platform were Mrs. Shepherd Bryan, first vice president; Mrs. Victor Kreighaber, second vice president; Mrs. R. L. Reed, secretary; Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, treasurer; Mrs. T. G. Delph, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Earl S. Kauffman, assistant corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John McLaughlin, auditor. Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, the club parliamentarian, was not present, being absent from the city.

Foote's Trunk Co.
237 Peachtree Street
Between Cain and Harris Sts.
Hat Boxes
$2.48
Were $5.50
Great reduction on all Trunks and Leather Goods.
Call Walnut 6539 for Repairing Trunks and Cases Made to Order

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO UPSHAW
Paid by ANTI-AL SMITH WOMEN
He Is Called "America's Most Remarkable Man"

The following resolutions adopted Thursday by an enthusiastic meeting of the Woman's Division of the Anti-Al Smith Committee were offered to the three Atlanta papers as part of a legitimate news-story.

As the resolutions were refused publication by all the Atlanta papers the officers of the organization feel that we ought to give them to the public even if we are forced to pay for their publication:

We, the Woman's Division of the Anti-Al Smith committee, hereby endorse with all heartiness the candidacy of Hon. Wm. D. Upshaw for Congress.

In taking this action we feel that we are taking our place beside, not only our White Ribbon Comrades, all over the nation, but likewise beside the friends of righteousness from coast to coast who are watching his battle from far and near, ready to rejoice with us over his triumphant return to Washington where he held the highest respect of both parties in Congress.

Some of us remember with grateful pride the words with which the late beloved Dr. W. W. Landrum presented Mr. Upshaw to a great religious convention in the Atlanta auditorium soon after his first election to Congress when he declared: "You are to hear tonight the most remarkable man in America."

Overcoming difficulties that would have crushed most men, William D. Upshaw fought his way to national and international distinction, making himself as U. S. Senator W. M. Newby, of West Virginia, said of him, "An inspiration to the youth of America."

In the first place we favor the candidacy of Mr. Upshaw because he is the type of man we need in Congress at this crucial time. He is a man of fixed moral convictions who cannot be switched from the main line by the specious plea of time-serving politicians. He has the convictions of a clear-headed statesman and a courage to maintain them.

In the second place we women citizens have not forgotten that Mr. Upshaw was the only Georgia representative who voted for equal suffrage, and who has never once failed us when we have had before Congress measures in which women were especially interested. We always know where to find him in the face of our affairs. He is in his hands. Others often promise to "take the matter up"—Mr. Upshaw simply goes ahead and does the work.

In the third place we favor Mr. Upshaw's election because of the national crisis now upon us, and our belief that no other man in the nation can render the same service to the commonwealth at this time, as Mr. Upshaw can. For four years he was the acknowledged leader of the dry forces in Congress, and since Mr. Bryan's death he has been universally acclaimed the leading champion of prohibition enforcement in the Democratic party, if not in the nation. He is today a national character with a national voice in national affairs. We want him back in Congress. We want him there, not only as the fearless and aggressive champion of this cause in which, as wives and mothers, we are so deeply interested, that we feel that the business men of this great district, with Atlanta as its capital, deserves a man of such tact, energy, and national influence to represent them.

In the fourth place, we favor Mr. Upshaw's election because he has the moral courage to oppose Al Smith, the enemy of national prohibition, clean government and good citizenship. In face of Mr. Upshaw's long, consistent fight for national righteousness, we would have little or no respect for him if he were not now opposing Al Smith and the Tammany program of nullification. Platforms do not mean nearly so much to us as men do—men whom we know and whom we can trust. Wherever Mr. Upshaw is, we feel that our man is "on the job" and will keep in daily, vigilant touch with those who sent him there.

MRS. AMELIA WOODALL,
Chairman.
MRS. F. A. SMITH,
Vice Chairman.
MRS. LENA COX, Secretary.
MRS. W. C. McCORD, Treasurer.
District Chairman:
MRS. J. M. DODSON,
Campbell Co.

Judge J. J. Flynt Talks PLAIN COMMON SENSE

In my campaign for election as Secretary of State, I have made one of the chief issues a proposal to work for the adoption of a plan by the state legislature providing for local distribution of automobile license tags. This system has been in use some time in many other states and has proven itself most practical and convenient.

Under this system each automobile owner can readily, and without a lot of red tape, secure his automobile license tag at a minimum expense to him and the state; also the money will be kept in the locality in which it is collected until ready for use by the state highway department.

In this campaign I have fought openly for the county distribution system. My opponent has opposed the distribution of automobile tags by counties and is advocating the old system. The county system saves time for the tag buyer, saves money for the state and makes it more convenient for every automobile owner and eliminates last minute's rush. Your vote will be appreciated by,

J. J. FLYNT
Candidate for Secretary of State.

NUMBER 13
A Message to the People of Atlanta Especially the Ladies Living in the Vicinity of Virginia Avenue and Highland

Beginning today the Virginia Avenue Hardware Company Store at 996 Virginia Avenue, near Highland, will be known as Store Number 13 of the KING HARDWARE COMPANY.

We are opening this store with a special sale price on every piece of merchandise in the house.

There Will Be Souvenirs for Every Lady, Man, Boy or Girl Visiting
This Store Today and Tomorrow

The addition of Number 13 to the chain of efficient hardware department stores which we maintain simply means that the many customers of this Company who reside in the vicinity of Virginia Avenue and Highland may now enjoy the further benefits which individual service can provide.

Store Number 13 will carry, as do our other stores, a complete line of hardware and housewares needs. Your charge account with King Hardware Company will be in force at this Store and we commend the personnel of Store Number 13 to you for needs in our line.

King Hardware Co.
Store Number Thirteen—996 Virginia Avenue, N. E., Near Highland—
HEMo:k 6374
Thirteen Stores in Atlanta To Serve

Perfect health is refreshing

If you are tired—lack pep—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—even one of these S.S.S. pills will surprise you.

WHEN your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning.

Instead, you feel refreshed; ready to meet the world!

Your appetite is keen, you enjoy work or play. Your skin is clear—cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood is Nature's substance for building and sustaining the body.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—thru the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did."

Miss Ruth Gahn,
1124 Eldon Ave.,
Los Angeles, Calif.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

S.S.S. Builds Sturdy Health

the RA

850 kilocycles (352.7 meters)—
WWL, New Orleans. 5,000 watts; to divide time with KWKL. Shreveport. construction permit for 5,000 watts.

860 kilocycles (343.8 meters)—
WABC-WBOQ, New York. 5,000
watts.

870 kilocycles (344.6 meters)—
WLS, Chicago. 5,000 watts. To divide time with WENR, Chicago, 5,000
watts.

970 kilocycles (309.1 meters)—
KJR, Seattle. 5,000 watts.

980 kilocycles (305.9 meters)—
KDKA, Pittsburgh. 50,000 watts.

990 kilocycles (302.8 meters)—
WRZ, Springfield, Mass. 15,000

First zone with WJAZ, Chicago, 5,000 watts, to divide time with WKEN, Buffalo, 750 watts, to divide time. In third zone KPJF, Oklahoma City, 5,000 watts, and WRUF, Gainesville, Fla., 5,000 watts, to divide time. In fifth zone KGA, Spokane, 5,000 watts. Full time.

1,480 kilocycles (202.6 meters)—Four-way division of time among WJAZ, Chicago, 5,000 watts; WHT, Chicago, 5,000 watts; WIBO, Chicago, 5,000 watts; and WORD, Batavia, Ill., 5,000 watts.

1,490 kilocycles (201.6 meters)—WBWA, Nashville, 5,000 watts. To divide time with WLAC, Nashville, 5,000 watts.

will be heard as a flute solo. His latest work, "Jeannine, My Dream of L'ilac Time," will be played as a trombone solo and his arrangement of the familiar "Linky" ("Linky, Linky Voo") will be offered by the full orchestra.

Other features are a trumpet solo, Schubert's "Serenade" by Del Stangiers, cornetist with the Eversley Salsbury orchestra and soloist in numerous Goldman band concerts. A piano novena will be the first "Ivor" piece played by Jack Shilkrut, brother of the conductor, and Milt Rettenberg, among the tenor solos by Mr. Echols will be [illegible]

Prison Body To Hear Eula Thompson Plea At September 18 Meeting

The case of Eula Thompson, upon sentence of death for the murder of Coleman Osborn, will be received at the Georgia prison commission on September 18, according to A. S. Johnson, attorney for the doomed woman.

Mrs. Thompson's death warrant was forwarded Monday from the prison commission's office to the warden of the state penitentiary at Milledgeville.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

J. M. HIGH Co.

*Using UX250
Power Tube*

YOUR PHOTO FREE!

SENSATIONAL VALUE

We will give you absolutely free an extra large size photograph of yourself or of one of your family. W. Milledge White, Photographer, 10½ Auburn avenue, will make the photo for you at no cost whatever to yourself.

We Pay Photographer for Your Picture

Nothing like this has ever before been offered to the people of Atlanta. We are making this offer to introduce Getz Insecticides, the famous death-dealing powders and insect destroyers — recognized for their ability to surely and quickly rid homes, cafes and hotels of bugs, ants, mice, rats, roaches, fleas, bed bugs and all forms of insect life. We want you to try Getz. We want you to know how quickly this powerful insecticide exterminates loathsome, crawling creatures and insects of every description.

Where to Get GETZ

Atkins Park Pharmacy . 772 Highland Ave., N.E.
College Ave. Pharmacy . 724 W. College Ave.
Kirkwood Pharmacy . 2005 Boulevard, N.E.
Stewart Pharmacy . 1176 Fair St., S.E.
Norton Pharmacy . 339 Georgia Ave., S.E.
Park Pharmacy . 588 Woodward Ave., S.E.
Hatton Pharmacy . 336 Fair St., S.E.
McFarland Pharmacy . 531 W. Peachtree St.
Mi-Drug Store . 761 Pryor St., S.W.
Gordon St. Pharmacy . 1002 Gordon St., S.W.
Wall's Drug Store . Brookhaven
Morningside Pharmacy . 1016 Virginia Ave., N.E.
Little 5 Points Phcy . 1159 McLendon Ave., N.E.
Redding's Pharmacy . 796 Edgewood Ave., N.E.
Friedman Pharmacy . 531 Boulevard, S.E.
Lipp's Drug Store . 340 Glenwood Ave., S.E.
James Pharmacy . 1130 Euclid Ave., N.E.
Medlock's Pharmacy . 805 Gordon St. S.W.

GETZ Products can be purchased at your neighborhood Drug Store

How to Get FREE Photo

Simply clip the coupon below. Take it to your druggist and make a purchase of Getz Insecticides totaling 50c. Your druggist will then give you a certificate entitling you to one large Silvertone photograph absolutely free. This certificate also enables you to purchase additional copies of photo at a special low introductory price.

Offered for Limited Time Only

This amazing offer starts September 11 and will be good up to and including September 22. Only one coupon to a family—good only on the first 50c purchase. Photographer will make appointments in the order he receives coupons. Be sure to get your free photo by clipping the coupon NOW.

GETZ EXTERMINATORS, Inc.

Local Office 14 Edgewood Ave.

Walnut 7784

Established 1888

Atlanta — New Orleans — Dallas — San Antonio — St. Louis — Kansas City

Getz-Gets the eggs too!

USE THIS COUPON

GETZ INSECTICIDES

My purchase of Getz Insecticides totaling 50c and this coupon entitles me to free photo certificate—photo to be made by

W. MILLEDGE WHITE

Photographer

10½ Auburn Avenue

Miss Randall and Mr. Grant Wed Today at Home Ceremony

The second week in September opens with many social gaieties featuring weddings and parties for brides-elect and charming visitors. Miss Marjorie Randall and Walter Gordon Grant, of Rochester, New York, will take their vows of love and obedience this afternoon in the beautiful new Druid Hills Baptist church before an assemblage of relatives and close friends.

A series of parties for dainty little Miss Marion, a bride-elect of this month, begins this afternoon with a tea at the Piedmont Driving club, at which Miss Mary Goddard will entertain, complimenting both this piquant young bride-elect and her guest, Miss Vivian Hay, of Macon. Miss Elmer Clark, of Decatur, who is to be married next Saturday and who has been honored at a number of parties during the past two weeks, continues to be honored today at two lovely parties.

Mrs. William Howell Kiser will entertain at an informal luncheon Tuesday at "Knollwood," her home on Pace's Ferry road, complimenting Miss Marion Calhoun, charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, who will leave October 2 for Washington, D. C., where she will enroll as a pupil at the National Cathedral school. Miss Edythe Coleman will be hostess at a buffet supper at her home on Euclid avenue, honoring Miss Virginia Peeler, of Toronto, Canada.

High Contest

Begins Tuesday.

The art scholarship competition for graduate students of the Atlanta high schools will be held in the art school rooms at the High Museum of Art Tuesday afternoon, September 11, at 2 o'clock. Winners of the four scholarships will be awarded a full year's scholarship in the day school of the Atlanta Art association's new school of art at the High Museum. Each scholarship is valued at $150.

College Girl Tells How She Cleared Skin, Gained 12 Lbs.

"Skinny" Girls Never Get Friends

New Tasteless
YEAST and IRON Builds up Weight in 3 Weeks
—or Pay Nothing

"I am a student at Columbia University and am writing to inform you of the benefits from IRONIZED YEAST. It helped to clear away some unsightly pimples. Before taking IRONIZED YEAST my weight was 103 lbs. Now I weigh 115 lbs. My face and neck are glowing out, my digestion is better, I eat and sleep well and my health is excellent."

Kate C. Buchanan

The Secret of a Rounded Form
Letter after letter tells this same wonderful story. Five to 15 pounds gained in a few weeks. Bony limbs rounded. Blotchy skin cleared. Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective—for iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. Pleasant tablets. Never cause gas or bloating. Safe—no harmful drugs.

Try it on "Money-Back" Offer

Go to any drug store today and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, your money back instantly. If inconvenient to buy from drug store send $1.00 to IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 26-BJ.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who objects to gaining weight. © I. Y. Co.

Thousands of Georgians Write Letters Like These!
What IRONIZED YEAST has done for all these folks it should certainly do for you. Take advantage of our generous trial offer. If not delighted, get your money back.

Pale and Tired, Gains 10 Lbs. "Your IRONIZED YEAST has done me so much good. I was run-down, felt tired all the time, color was gone. Now my color is back and have gained 10 lbs."—Blanche L. Jackson, Juliette, Ga.	Ailing, Underweight, Gains 10 Lbs. "I had been weak, ailing and underweight, with poor appetite. Took IRONIZED YEAST and in 6 weeks gained 10 lbs. Now eat and sleep fine."—Mrs. T. A. Johnson, Dalton, Ga.
---	---

for Faster---Cleaner Washing

only $5 down, balance in 15 months

THE THOR AGITATOR is the world's lowest-priced quality washer. It is speedy—yet safe—beautiful and compact, thorough in the washing it does. Easy to operate, easy to clean.

This is one electrical servant your home laundry surely needs. It washes a tubful of clothes spotlessly clean in 5 minutes.

Let us give you a free demonstration in your home—without obligation. Let us tell you of our unusually attractive terms and the year's supply of soap given with each THOR AGITATOR. Call us on the phone.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

Walnut 6121

84 Walton St.

Mrs. W. G. Fraser Nee Alexa Stirling Has Baby Daughter

Word has been received in Atlanta of the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fraser, of Ocala, Fla., of the birth of a daughter, who has been given the name "Alexandra." Mrs. Fraser was formerly Miss Alexa Stirling, Atlanta's first international golf champion, and a popular member of the social contingent of the city. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Stirling, who Monday were being felicitated by their hundreds of friends on the arrival of a granddaughter. Little "Alexandra" is Mrs. Fraser's first child.

The baby was born Saturday, September 8, and will be called Alexa, for her father, Dr. Stirling, prominent Atlanta specialist. Mrs. Fraser was one of the popular members of social and golfing circles during her residence in this city, and her marriage to Dr. Fraser was solemnized three years ago.

Garden Hills

Woman's Club
Plans Carnival

Elaborate plans are being made for the street carnival which the ways and means committee of the Garden Hills Woman's club will sponsor Friday, September 14, from 7 to 11 o'clock. Mrs. H. T. Adams and Mrs. R. A. Johns have charge of the tickets, with Mrs. J. H. Horne, Mrs. Paul Franke, Mrs. J. A. Enright and Mrs. Simmons as an advertising committee.

Mrs. R. S. Ellington and Mrs. H. M. Stanford have a chance wheel; Mrs. B. H. Schoepf, Mrs. F. L. Quillian and Mrs. M. L. Keifer will keep the country store, and Mrs. W. C. Roberts and Mrs. W. B. Robinson will preside over the fortune-telling booth. Mrs. Charles Vernon will have the refreshment stand, with Misses Martha Knapp and Elizabeth Lively as assistants will have a grab bag.

Those in charge of refreshment booths are Mrs. E. E. Limbaugh and Mrs. J. L. Stephens, ice cream; Mrs. Ben Cox, candy; Mrs. Laks Quillian, Mrs. J. S. Donaldson, Mrs. P. H. Camp and Mrs. T. C. Cox, homemade doughnuts and coffee. Mrs. Lafayette Butler will supervise the dance and a number of handsome prizes will be given. Judges will be announced later. Admission will be 25 cents.

Mrs. George Knapp and Mrs. D. O. Martin, co-chairmen of the ways and means committee of the Garden Hills Woman's club, request all chairmen of committees to meet in the clubroom on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock to discuss final plans for the street carnival.

Miss Evelyn Jackson To Be Honored.

The Okefenokee Camp Fire girls of Girls' High school will entertain at an informal reception for Miss Evelyn Jackson, of Valdosta, Wednesday afternoon, September 12, at 4 o'clock at Camp Fire headquarters, 161 Spring street, N. W., room 228. Miss Jackson was the archery counselor at the Camp Fire girls' camp during the past summer, and the assistant swimming counselor, and was very popular among the girls and other counselors. Miss Jackson is passing through Atlanta on her way to Shorter college at Rome, Ga., where she will be a junior this year.

Young Women's Bible Class Will Be Entertained.

The Brotherhood of the Central Presbyterian church will honor the Young Women's Bible class of the church with a barbecue Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the church, the event being the outcome of a three months' attendance contest waged recently between the two classes in which the women's class won.

An entertaining program will be presented by the brotherhood, with Clarence W. Mills, chairman of arrangements. Members of the brotherhood with their wives are urged to be present and all members of the Young Women's Bible class with their husbands or friends are cordially invited to attend.

The officers of the brotherhood are Earl Slider, president; Dr. Griffin, vice president; Carlton Beam, secretary; George Russey, treasurer. Officers of the Young Women's Bible class are Miss Alma Henderson, president; Mrs. W. A. Upchurch, Miss Leona Stillman, Miss Frances Templeton, Miss Nollie Westover, vice presidents; Mrs. Bertha Mauldin, secretary; Miss Leila Palmer, treasurer; Miss E. Elizabeth Sawtell, corresponding secretary.

Miss Marion Hull Smith To Entertain Debutantes.

Miss Marion Hull Smith will entertain the 1928-29 Debutante club at her home on the Prado Saturday afternoon. The officers of the club for the coming year will be elected.

A Vulture On The Dinner Table

Suppose this carnal bird should alight on your dinner table, clawing at choice, dainty dishes with its repulsive feet? Think of having a visitor who frequents the most foul recesses of the earth to rest on your arms and face tonight?

Yet thousands of people daily undergo similar harrowing experiences if they only had the power to see things as they really are. If you would examine a common house fly under a magnifying glass you would find it fully as gruesome in appearance and habits as the vulture.

The havoc that flies wreak on health yearly in carrying diseases from ill persons and unclean objects to well, strong people is inconceivable. Yet most people regard flies only as annoyances instead of the deadliest enemies of mankind.

Kill-Ko is science's new way of dealing quick, sure death to flies and all other insect pests. Its vapor gas seeps into the cracks and crannies where they live, and yet is harmless to humans, animals, furniture and fabrics. Priced 50c and 75c at your drug or grocery store. Sold only in the blue bottle—Rigo Manufacturing Co., Nashville, Tenn.

For sale by JACOBS STORES ALL OVER ATLANTA. Also at Leading Grocery and Drug Stores.—(adv.)

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The motion picture department of the Atlanta P-T. A. council will meet Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in Rich's school room, fourth floor.

Atlanta Catholic club of Business and Professional Women meets at Vaughan's tea room, Forsyth street, at 6 o'clock.

Grace lodge, No. 514, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, meets at 2:30 o'clock at 160 Central avenue.

Kirkwood chapter, No. 223, O. E. S., meets this evening at 8 o'clock in the Kirkwood Masonic hall.

The garden committee of the Atlanta Woman's club meets at 10:30 o'clock at the clubhouse.

Wednesday Morning Study club meets at the home of Mrs. H. C. Phipps, 1207 Duval place.

The executive board of Boys' High school P-T. A. meets at 3:30 o'clock in the office of the principal of the school.

Martha chapter, No. 128, O. E. S., meets at 8 o'clock.

Ladies' Auxiliary council, No. 660, Knights of Columbus, meets at 8 o'clock this evening at the clubhouse, 1198 Peachtree street.

A competition for high school graduates will be held at 2 o'clock at the High Museum of art.

Alpha Omega chapter of the Delphian society meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. W. McClure, 145 Elizabeth street, N. E.

Gate City chapter, No. 233, O. E. S., will reconvene at 8 o'clock.

The executive board of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., meets at 10:30 o'clock at the chapter house on Juniper street.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Miss Mary Lemcke has returned from New York and Lewa Beach, Del., where she was the guest of Mrs. S. A. Bookhammer at her summer home.

Judge and Mrs. Shepherd Bryan and daughters, Misses Florence, Marion and Mary Bryan, have returned from an extended European tour.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill have returned home from a trip to Canada.

Mrs. M. O. Markham has returned to her home in Tampa, Fla., after a visit to relatives in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Watson Matthews left last week to spend some time at the summer lodge of their father, George Pratt, in the Canadian woods near Montreal.

Dr. J. F. Harris, of Hogsansville, spent Saturday in the city.

Mrs. Fannie Stanford and Miss Elizabeth Preest, of Newman, were guests of relatives in the city for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hamilton, of Chattanooga, have returned home.

W. L. Hambrick has returned from a visit to White Stone, Westland and Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Shaw, of Valdosta, have returned home.

Mrs. J. L. Wiggins, of Montgomery, was in the city last week.

Mrs. C. H. Shannon, Mrs. T. T. Alexander and Miss Arlene Alexander, of Austell, spent several days in the city recently.

Miss Elizabeth Whaley and Miss Rhea Dallas, of Asheville, who have been guests of Mrs. Sarah G. Whaley for several weeks, left by motor Thursday for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Poss, who motored to Philomoth and other points in south Georgia, have returned.

Colonel Linton A. Dean, of Rome, was in the city last week en route home from a stay at Battle Creek, Mich.

Miss Essie Adams has returned to the Mary P. Williamson school at Blue Ridge, Ga.

Loraine Adams and J. W. Jones leave in a few days to enter Mercer university, Macon.

Miss Emily Mallory will resume her studies at Mary P. Williamson school at Blue Ridge this week.

Among Georgians who are enjoying the beautiful Lookout Mountain hotel, Lookout Mountain, Tenn., are the following: Charles Monon, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Youngblood, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hopkins, Decatur, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Griffin, C. L. Dinkler, B. G. Boudry, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clark, Charles Kruger, Frank Maloney, Dan Farrell, and Simon Selig, of Atlanta, Georgia.

Mrs. E. C. Benton, Mrs. W. L. Gibson and Miss Anna Benton returned from their summer cottage at Borden Springs, Ala.

E. C. Walhall, Roy C. Sheeler, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Oehm are at the Buena Vista hotel, Biloxi, Miss.

Rev. L. D. Rolander returns tomorrow from Kenesaw, Ga., where he has been for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Ottley are at the Roosevelt hotel, New York city.

Miss Elizabeth Parsons, of Jacksonville, Fla., is the guest of Miss Anna Benton.

Misses Sarah and Jessie Robbins, of Talbotton, Ga., have been the guests of their niece, Mrs. Fred Shaefer at the Biltmore hotel for several days. They will leave this week for North Carolina.

Mrs. M. Gray Zaluski, who has been ill at St. Joseph's infirmary for some time is recuperating in her apartment in the Biltmore terrace.

Mrs. C. H. Bridges, of Petersburg, Va., is at the Georgian terrace.

Mrs. J. W. Willis has returned from a month's visit to relatives in Virginia.

Mrs. L. L. Whitlock has returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and New York.

Mrs. and Mrs. Robert S. Paulsen, of Chicago, Ill., are spending this week at the Georgian terrace.

Alvin S. Cates is convalescing from his recent illness at Wesley Memorial hospital and expects to return to his home on Peachtree road at an early date.

Mrs. H. C. Quinn, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is spending this week at the Georgian terrace.

Miss Beatie Davidson, of Miami, Fla., formerly of Atlanta, is visiting her brother and sister, Mrs. and Mrs. R. C. Davidson, at their home at 817 Clermont drive.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, formerly of Atlanta, will spend several days in Athens, arriving there September 16.

Atlanta Girls Will Attend Wesleyan College

A group of Atlanta girls left Monday to attend Wesleyan college and will form the Atlanta club, of which Miss Josephine Humphries, daughter of Judge John D. Humphries, is president. They are Misses Louise Beckham, Virginia Bull, Catherine Burford, Hilda Burnett, Virginia Dance, Evelyn Fine, Marian Gertman, Christine Clauser, Marguerite Gunn, Frances Hardin, Josephine Humphries, Dorothy Hunnicutt, Melissa Jack, Frances Johnson, Estelle King, Frances Knott, Ruth Mann, Mary McCord, Eleanor McDonald, Lois McDonald, Virginia Petway, Elsie Phillips, Eva Rumble, Mary Ruth Senter, Virginia Shippey, Clara Belle Smith, Louise Stakely, Eleanor Stanford, Allie Stephens, Lellita Stips, Frances Upchurch, Alice Moore Warren, Helen Witherspoon and Cecelia Wright.

Marion-Snellings

Wedding Cards Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis Marion have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Lucy Cheney, to John Richards Snelling Saturday evening, September 22, at 8 o'clock in North Avenue Presbyterian church, Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony.

place, and Mrs. Branson James, 91 Rogers street.

Mrs. J. W. Woodruff is visiting Mrs. T. N. Warren, of Macon.

George Black leaves Tuesday for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he enters Baylor college.

Mrs. Walter P. Candler and little daughter, Marian Elizabeth Candler, have returned from Chattanooga, Tenn., where they spent 10 days at Lookout Mountain hotel. The Chattanooga Times of Sunday, September 9, carried an attractive photograph of these Atlantans.

Roy J. Beavers is convalescing from a recent illness at his home on Woodlawn avenue.

Miss Laura Bassett, of Akron, Ohio, spent the week-end at the Biltmore hotel en route to Gainesville, Ga., where she will attend Brenau for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Seaman and Bobbie Seaman, of Lansing, Mich., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Glenn, returned home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn accompanied them to Chattanooga, Tenn.

Commander and Mrs. D. F. Sutton, U. S. N., and their daughters, Misses Virginia and Bettie Sutton, spent Sunday at the Biltmore. They are motoring from Washington to Pensacola, Fla., where Commander Sutton will be stationed.

Mann - Fuller Wedding Plans Are of Interest

Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Margaret Mann, of Washington, D. C., sister of Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Carter, of Atlanta, to Colonel Lawson Mayo Fuller, of Washington, D. C. The engagement was announced Sunday. The marriage will be solemnized Wednesday, September 12, in Baltimore, Md., in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The young couple will leave September 15 via the steamship Leviathan for a two months' tour of Europe, returning to make their home at 2212 Cathedral avenue, Washington, D. C. Colonel and Mrs. Elberton Fuller, of Richmond, Va., brother and sister-in-law of the groom-elect, will be among the out-of-town guests who will attend the wedding.

Miss Arnold Weds

I. M. Mayer.

Mrs. W. E. Arnold, of Charlotte, N. C., announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma Haynes, to I. M. Mayer, the ceremony taking place at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Decatur, September 7, Rev. J. W. Quillian officiating.

turning to make their home at 2212 Cathedral avenue, Washington, D. C. Colonel and Mrs. Elberton Fuller, of Richmond, Va., brother and sister-in-law of the groom-elect, will be among the out-of-town guests who will attend the wedding.

Miss Mann, who made her home here prior to moving to Washington, D. C., is well known in the city, having a large circle of friends here who will learn with interest of her approaching marriage. She has frequently visited her sister, Mrs. H. G. Carter here.

—in silk mat kid
—in black doeskin

Dame Fashion favors the subtle restraint without loss of personality which distinguishes these smartly cut oxfords of silk mat kid. Equally appealing in doeskin.

$15.50

Street Floor

Prompt Mail Service

M. RICH & BROS. Co

TUESDAY • FASHION DAY at RICH'S

Lamps of Metal

—Metal is a sophisticated medium of art. In the beginning there was stone . . . later, wood . . . then, clay . . . and now, metal! Locomotives . . . ships that sail the seas by steam . . . ships that sail the air . . . and even the clay we use is mixed with metal into the mammoth structures that form our cities. Rich's Lamp Shop presents lamps of all four of the lesser metals. . .

Lamps of Pewter

—In the Early American manner, we say, because Pewter was used so extensively by America of the days of Paul Revere . . . and because the shapes of these lamps bring to mind the candle sticks and little bowl lamps of New England. . .

Of Copper and of Brass

—Burnished globes of copper that glow with the vivid spirit of Modernism . . . some in hammered effects that give the mind the thought of shining new coins . . . and here we sketch a reproduction of Russian jug of copper. . .

Lamps of Iron and Steel —And of course the metals that are pre-eminently characteristic of the age in which we live . . . iron and steel. . . We feature lamps of iron undesignated and proud of their strength . . . and lamps of steel that bring to mind skyscrapers in the shapes they attain. . .

THE LAMP SHOP
—RICH'S, SIXTH FLOOR

Visit the New Sixth Floor!

RICH'S

Norris-Turner Wedding Rites Are Solemnized at St. Luke's

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Norris, and Luther S. Turner, was solemnized at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, September 10, at St. Luke's Episcopal church. The Rev. N. R. High Moor, rector, performed the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends who assembled in the church of the church.

Against a luxuriant background of palms and ferns banked against the altar, baskets of white gladioli interspersed with cathedral candelabra stood in bold relief. Flowering vines entwined the altar rail.

Preceding the ceremony Hugh Hodgson, organist, rendered a program of nuptial music, including "Believe Me of All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "To a Wild Rose." The wedding chorus was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

The ushers were Jack Norris, brother of the bride, and Joe Ray, Harry McDonald acted as groomsmen. Miss Helen Norris, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor, wore a sleeveless model of yellow georgette, fashioned with tight waist, a set with a scalloped bertha, and full skirt of uneven hemline terminating in graceful scallops. She carried a sheath of pink roses tied with a matching shade of tulle. Miss Mary Turner, sister of the groom, wore a sleeveless model of light blue tulle, fashioned along lines similar to those of the maid of honor. She carried pink roses.

The Lovely Bride.
The bride who entered with her father, John J. Norris, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Claude Gambol. She was lovely in her wedding robes of white satin, fashioned with sleeveless bodice featuring a smart Queen Ann collar of real lace, edged with seed pearls, and full skirt of graceful uneven hemline. A band of seed pearls which marked the waist line terminated in front in two magnificent pearl ornaments. Her veil of soft silk tulle, which formed the train, was caught to her hair with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a magnificent shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley tied with streamers of white tulle.

Following the ceremony an informal reception for the bridal party and families of the young couple was given by Mrs. Norris and Mrs. J. W. Ray at the home of Mrs. Ray on Highland terrace. Afterward Mrs. and Mr. Turner left for a wedding trip to Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Turner wore a navy blue georgette ensemble offset with accessories of tan. A close-fitting hat of navy blue felt completed the costume. They will make their home in Atlanta upon their return.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Willett Sloan, Miss Sarah Sloan, Miss Sarah Helen Hill, all of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hill, of Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. D. F. Stevenson Honors Board of Atlanta U. D. C.
Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will entertain the officers and members of the executive board at a seated luncheon at the chapter house on Juniper Tuesday, September 11, at 1 o'clock.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Stevenson, with her enthusiastic corps of officers and chairmen, the chapter is in readiness to do excellent work during the coming year.

Officers and chairmen of the chapter are: President, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Woodruff; second vice president, Mrs. H. K. Rambo; third vice president, Miss Sallie Eugene Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Poole; treasurer, Mrs. Forrest Kilber; registrar, Mrs. Moreland Speer; historian, Miss Rose Moran; recorder of crosses, Miss Virginia Harding; auditor, Mrs. W. F. Dykes.

Mrs. Wilmer Moore Calls Board Meeting.
Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, president of Atlanta Music club, calls a meeting of the executive board for Wednesday morning at her home on West Eleventh street.

Miss Henderson Honors Class Committee.
Miss Alma Henderson was hostess to committee No. 2 of the Young Women's Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at her home on McLendon avenue.

Miss Henderson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George W. Grant, Mrs. C. O. Canaffax and little Miss Charlotte Grant.

Miss McCauley Honors Miss Johnnie Eager.
Miss Anne McCauley entertained at a bridge luncheon Monday her home on Gordon street in compliment to Miss Johnnie Eager, of Valdosta, who is her guest en route home from the summer home of her parents at Monticello, Tenn. Mrs. P. D. McCauley and Miss Adair McCauley assisted in entertaining. Sixteen guests were present.

The Lovely Bride.
The bride who entered with her father, John J. Norris, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Claude Gambol. She was lovely in her wedding robes of white satin, fashioned with sleeveless bodice featuring a smart Queen Ann collar of real lace, edged with seed pearls, and full skirt of graceful uneven hemline. A band of seed pearls which marked the waist line terminated in front in two magnificent pearl ornaments. Her veil of soft silk tulle, which formed the train, was caught to her hair with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a magnificent shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley tied with streamers of white tulle.

Following the ceremony an informal reception for the bridal party and families of the young couple was given by Mrs. Norris and Mrs. J. W. Ray at the home of Mrs. Ray on Highland terrace. Afterward Mrs. and Mr. Turner left for a wedding trip to Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Turner wore a navy blue georgette ensemble offset with accessories of tan. A close-fitting hat of navy blue felt completed the costume. They will make their home in Atlanta upon their return.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Willett Sloan, Miss Sarah Sloan, Miss Sarah Helen Hill, all of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hill, of Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. D. F. Stevenson Honors Board of Atlanta U. D. C.
Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will entertain the officers and members of the executive board at a seated luncheon at the chapter house on Juniper Tuesday, September 11, at 1 o'clock.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Stevenson, with her enthusiastic corps of officers and chairmen, the chapter is in readiness to do excellent work during the coming year.

Officers and chairmen of the chapter are: President, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Woodruff; second vice president, Mrs. H. K. Rambo; third vice president, Miss Sallie Eugene Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Poole; treasurer, Mrs. Forrest Kilber; registrar, Mrs. Moreland Speer; historian, Miss Rose Moran; recorder of crosses, Miss Virginia Harding; auditor, Mrs. W. F. Dykes.

Mrs. Wilmer Moore Calls Board Meeting.
Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, president of Atlanta Music club, calls a meeting of the executive board for Wednesday morning at her home on West Eleventh street.

Miss Henderson Honors Class Committee.
Miss Alma Henderson was hostess to committee No. 2 of the Young Women's Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at her home on McLendon avenue.

Miss Henderson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George W. Grant, Mrs. C. O. Canaffax and little Miss Charlotte Grant.

Miss McCauley Honors Miss Johnnie Eager.
Miss Anne McCauley entertained at a bridge luncheon Monday her home on Gordon street in compliment to Miss Johnnie Eager, of Valdosta, who is her guest en route home from the summer home of her parents at Monticello, Tenn. Mrs. P. D. McCauley and Miss Adair McCauley assisted in entertaining. Sixteen guests were present.

The Lovely Bride.
The bride who entered with her father, John J. Norris, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Claude Gambol. She was lovely in her wedding robes of white satin, fashioned with sleeveless bodice featuring a smart Queen Ann collar of real lace, edged with seed pearls, and full skirt of graceful uneven hemline. A band of seed pearls which marked the waist line terminated in front in two magnificent pearl ornaments. Her veil of soft silk tulle, which formed the train, was caught to her hair with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a magnificent shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley tied with streamers of white tulle.

Following the ceremony an informal reception for the bridal party and families of the young couple was given by Mrs. Norris and Mrs. J. W. Ray at the home of Mrs. Ray on Highland terrace. Afterward Mrs. and Mr. Turner left for a wedding trip to Jacksonville, Fla. Mrs. Turner wore a navy blue georgette ensemble offset with accessories of tan. A close-fitting hat of navy blue felt completed the costume. They will make their home in Atlanta upon their return.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Willett Sloan, Miss Sarah Sloan, Miss Sarah Helen Hill, all of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hill, of Highlands, N. C.

Mrs. D. F. Stevenson Honors Board of Atlanta U. D. C.
Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will entertain the officers and members of the executive board at a seated luncheon at the chapter house on Juniper Tuesday, September 11, at 1 o'clock.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Stevenson, with her enthusiastic corps of officers and chairmen, the chapter is in readiness to do excellent work during the coming year.

Officers and chairmen of the chapter are: President, Mrs. D. F. Stevenson; first vice president, Mrs. Frank Woodruff; second vice president, Mrs. H. K. Rambo; third vice president, Miss Sallie Eugene Brown; recording secretary, Mrs. Earl Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Poole; treasurer, Mrs. Forrest Kilber; registrar, Mrs. Moreland Speer; historian, Miss Rose Moran; recorder of crosses, Miss Virginia Harding; auditor, Mrs. W. F. Dykes.

Mrs. Wilmer Moore Calls Board Meeting.
Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, president of Atlanta Music club, calls a meeting of the executive board for Wednesday morning at her home on West Eleventh street.

Miss Henderson Honors Class Committee.
Miss Alma Henderson was hostess to committee No. 2 of the Young Women's Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon at her home on McLendon avenue.

Miss Henderson was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George W. Grant, Mrs. C. O. Canaffax and little Miss Charlotte Grant.

Miss McCauley Honors Miss Johnnie Eager.
Miss Anne McCauley entertained at a bridge luncheon Monday her home on Gordon street in compliment to Miss Johnnie Eager, of Valdosta, who is her guest en route home from the summer home of her parents at Monticello, Tenn. Mrs. P. D. McCauley and Miss Adair McCauley assisted in entertaining. Sixteen guests were present.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Donalee Hales will entertain at her home on Boulevard drive in honor of Miss Elmer Clark, a bride-elect.

Misses Sara and Lucille Cassels will be hostesses at a bridge-tee at their home on Howard street in compliment to Miss Elmer Clarke, a bride-elect.

Miss Mary Goddard will be hostess at tea at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to her guest, Miss Vivian Hay, of Macon, and for Miss Lucy Marion, a bride-elect.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Randall and Walter Gordon Grant, of Rochester, N. Y., will take place at 5 o'clock at the Druid Hills Baptist church.

The marriage of Miss Florence Lacy and Oscar Eugene Cook will take place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Rebecca C. Leedy, on Gordon street.

Dinner-dance at the Capital City club.

Mrs. D. F. Stevenson, president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will entertain the officers and members of the executive board at a seated luncheon at 4 o'clock at the chapter house on Juniper street.

Honoring Miss Marion Calhoun, Mrs. William Howell Kiser entertains at luncheon at her home on Paces Ferry road.

Miss Edythe Coleman will be hostess at an informal buffet supper at her home on Euclid avenue in compliment to Miss Virginia Peeler, of Toronto, Canada.

School of Oratory Holds Free Clinic.
The Speaker's Club of Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression, 402 Wesley Memorial church building, will have a banquet at the Wincoff hotel Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged. The school will hold a free speech clinic Wednesday, September 12, from 12 noon to 5 o'clock for children and persons defective in speech or who lack confidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins Are Honor Guests.
Miss Eva Melton and Mrs. Myrtle Pinckard entertained at a bridge party Saturday evening at their home on St. Augustine place in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jenkins, whose marriage was a recent event. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jenkins, Misses Ruth Hancock, Velma Webb, Olive Craft, Little Culbreath, Mrs. C. M. Mills, Mrs. Zalma Almond, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Eberhart, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Warnock, L. L. Adair, J. G. Harrison, Herbert Liles, Guy Hey, Luther Tatum and H. Hamilton.

Phi Mu Alumnae Hold First Meeting.
The Atlanta alumnae chapter of Phi Mu meets Wednesday afternoon, September 12, at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Eloise Moon, 797 Juniper street, N. E. Recently elected officers will be installed, and plans for social and philanthropic activities will be made.

A special welcome will be given the Phi Mu who graduated in June from Randolph-Macon, Sophie Newcomb and other colleges. All Phi Mu and Philomatheans are invited, and are asked to notify Miss Moon, IVY 2963-J, if they can attend.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson To Give Luncheon.
Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee of the National Wholesale Druggists' association, which will convene at the Biltmore hotel the week of October 1, will entertain her committee at luncheon Tuesday at the Biltmore hotel.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock in one of the private dining rooms of the hotel, the guests to include the members of the local committee including Mesdames Arthur G. Powell, Mitchell King, Stacy E. Hill, Earl Cone, Arthur Howell, Harrison Jones, Irving Thomas, Lynn Fort, Frank Fleming and Charles Hoke.

CAPT. BERNARD DUBEL, MARINE OFFICER, WEDS
Announcement of the marriage of Captain Bernard Dubel, who was in charge of the marine detachment which guarded the mails in Atlanta some time ago from possible bandit attack, was received Monday by Postoffice Inspector Joe P. Johnston. Captain Dubel married Miss Ruth Ginn, daughter of Mrs. H. M. Booth, in Managua, Nicaragua, where he is on duty, on June 30.

Edgar P. James, business manager for the Emory glee club, who arrived in Atlanta at noon Monday, announced the financial end of the club's trip abroad was a complete success. Mr. and Mrs. James, who is in Albany, Ga., is graduate manager for the club, and made the trip in 1922 with the club.

He said that the letter of credit of the university which was carried by the club was never needed. Mr. James undertook entire financial responsibility of the club's trip, which amounted to around $25,000. He preceded the boys home in order to take up his work as teacher at Peacock school in Atlanta.

Mr. James and the club docked in New York Sunday afternoon on the S. S. Carmania of the Cunard line. The manager reported the final week of concerts in Amsterdam was a tremendous success financially as well as socially, despite the fact that a number of the boys were sick with the flu. The club members were sufficiently recovered to perform the entire program and sang in the first cabin in formal concert.

The director of the club, Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Davis, will arrive in Atlanta on the Piedmont Limited Tuesday afternoon. Ray Nixon, publicity manager for the club, preceded the club a week ago. The rest of the club will return from New York by boat to Savannah, where they will dock Thursday. They are expected in Atlanta Friday.

THREE COMPLAINTS MADE BY AUTOISTS, U. S. SURVEY SHOWS
Though automobile touring is on the increase, the conditions of this season are better than ever before, three complaints have been registered repeatedly as diminishing the sum total pleasure of the nation's motor tourist caravan, according to a preliminary survey of the American automobile association, made public Monday through the Atlanta Motor club.

Diversity of traffic rules in cities and states, failure of cities to mark thorough routes passing through urban limits and lack of belt lines around thickly populated areas are the three deficiencies cited by the A. A. A. survey based on reports to national headquarters from 1,065 affiliated motor clubs.

Urging that cities cooperate in correcting these conditions, the survey states that "the easier and safer travel for the motorist, the more cities he will ultimately visit and the more time he will have for stop-overs, sight-seeing and spending."

Milledgeville Water Row Results in Call For Citizens' Meeting
Milledgeville, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—The controversy over the question of the purity of Milledgeville's water supply took a step forward late Monday when Sam A. Anderson, health commissioner of the city, called for a mass meeting of citizens of the city to be held Tuesday night at the courthouse.

In a public statement Dr. Anderson criticized the mayor and city council for what he termed their failure to publish the true report of the state board of health with regard to the quality of the town's drinking water.

"Milledgeville is getting and paying for water that is not pure, good or safe," the health officer declared in his statement.

Interest in the water controversy is very keen and a large crowd is expected to attend the mass meeting.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO HANDLE 315 CASES
The federal grand jury convened Monday at the postoffice building to consider approximately 315 cases involving prohibition, motor vehicle theft, narcotic, postoffice and other offenses. R. M. Callaway is foreman of the grand jury. The session will last through Friday.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THE SUGAR-HOUSE HAS ANOTHER VISITOR.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Troubles had to meet today. Will tomorrow pass away. —Old Mother Nature.

Whitefoot and little Mrs. Whitefoot didn't leave the old sugar-house for two or three days after the visit of Yowler the Bobcat. They didn't put so much as a whisker outside. Every time they were tempted to go out the thought of the terrible screech Yowler had given when he voiced his disappointment at being unable to get into the sugar-house. And when they thought of that screech they shivered. Yes, they did, they shivered.

But the troubles of little wood and meadow folk are soon forgotten. It is a good thing that it is so. It would be a good thing if we humans could forget our troubles as quickly and as easily as do the little people in feathers and fur. During the daytime Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot were not inclined to go out much, but when the moon began to creep through the Green Forest the temptation to go outside was almost too much to be resisted. You see, that is Wood Mouse playtime.

"I don't believe Yowler will come back again," said Whitefoot. "He knows now that he can't get at us. I don't believe he will come back again."

"Perhaps not," said Mrs. Whitefoot, "but we are not going to stop outside here always. He'll give us time to forget about him and then he will come snooping around again. We'll have to watch out when we go outside, just as we always have watched out wherever we have been. I can think of lots of things I would rather do than furnish Yowler, the Bobcat, a bite for dinner."

"So can I," said Whitefoot. "So can I, and not think very hard either. Hello, what's that noise?"

Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot crowded close together and stared down in a corner of the little sugar-house where a woodpile used to be and where there was still a little wood. They had heard a noise down there.

"There's someone there!" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot. "You-you-you don't suppose Yowler, or one of his family, has dug his way in underneath?"

"No," said Whitefoot, "I don't suppose anything of the kind."

The next story: "The Visitor Becomes a Neighbor."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

"But there certainly is some one down there," whispered Mrs. Whitefoot. "Was right. Just then a stick of wood was pushed aside and a sharp

Troubles had to meet today. Will tomorrow pass away. —Old Mother Nature.

Whitefoot and little Mrs. Whitefoot didn't leave the old sugar-house for two or three days after the visit of Yowler the Bobcat. They didn't put so much as a whisker outside. Every time they were tempted to go out the thought of the terrible screech Yowler had given when he voiced his disappointment at being unable to get into the sugar-house. And when they thought of that screech they shivered. Yes, they did, they shivered.

But the troubles of little wood and meadow folk are soon forgotten. It is a good thing that it is so. It would be a good thing if we humans could forget our troubles as quickly and as easily as do the little people in feathers and fur. During the daytime Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot were not inclined to go out much, but when the moon began to creep through the Green Forest the temptation to go outside was almost too much to be resisted. You see, that is Wood Mouse playtime.

"I don't believe Yowler will come back again," said Whitefoot. "He knows now that he can't get at us. I don't believe he will come back again."

"Perhaps not," said Mrs. Whitefoot, "but we are not going to stop outside here always. He'll give us time to forget about him and then he will come snooping around again. We'll have to watch out when we go outside, just as we always have watched out wherever we have been. I can think of lots of things I would rather do than furnish Yowler, the Bobcat, a bite for dinner."

"So can I," said Whitefoot. "So can I, and not think very hard either. Hello, what's that noise?"

Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot crowded close together and stared down in a corner of the little sugar-house where a woodpile used to be and where there was still a little wood. They had heard a noise down there.

"There's someone there!" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot. "You-you-you don't suppose Yowler, or one of his family, has dug his way in underneath?"

"No," said Whitefoot, "I don't suppose anything of the kind."

The next story: "The Visitor Becomes a Neighbor."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him and there was doubt in both little faces.

"Well, there are times when it is a very good place to live. I used to live here once. In fact, I'm thinking a little bit about moving back here now."

Whitefoot looked at Mrs. Whitefoot and she at him

TWO 'LOST' GIRLS WERE ON A HIKE

Exeter, N. H., September 10.—(AP.) Two youthful girl students from the Northfield seminary, of East Northfield, Mass., who police of three states had sought since they disappeared last Wednesday, were on their way back to the institution today after a motorcycle policeman had terminated their 119-mile hike near here.

The girls were Marion Muller, 15, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mary Shapleigh, 14, of Buffalo, N. Y.

They told officers at the local police station that the walk was a "dare" undertaken by the girls for the first of West Lebanon, Maine, where Miss Shapleigh's father was staying. They were tired, hungry, and beginning to go bad, footsore, and beginning to get discouraged on the road, they were glad to call it off and accept police hospitality and the generous meal that went with it.

The girls began their hike with only $1.50, lost 50 cents and spent but 50 cents more, subsisting principally on fruits and nuts they found along the wayside and sleeping in the open.

GEM SALESMAN
LOSES $125,000
IN DAY ROBBERY

Milwaukee, Wis., September 10.—(United News.)—David Zimman, salesman for a Chicago jewelry house, was robbed of $125,000 and rooming today by two bandits and robbed $125,000 in diamonds and other jewelry.

The bandits tied Zimman to a chair in a rooming house here today. The robbery was discovered tonight when hotel clerks remembered that he had not been out of his room all day.

TURKISH MOSQUE FALLS ON DEVOUT

2 KILLED, 20 HURT
Orhanazyan, Anatolia, Turkey, September 10. —(AP)—The mosque of this devout muslim town, near Broussaf, caught fire yesterday while crowded with worshippers at the noon prayer hour. Two persons were killed and scores of others injured, many of whom were imprisoned in the ruins for many hours.

NINTH WARD CIVIC BODY MEETS TONIGHT

Many matters of importance will be considered tonight at the regular meeting of the Ninth Ward Civic Association, it was announced Monday. The session will begin at 7:30 o'clock at the high school. A social hour and a drive for new members will be launched. Leonard Crawford, prominent business man, president of the organization.

That Baby You've

Longed For

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton, of Kansas, a letter to "The Terrible Nervous" and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a healthy baby, a happy and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness. I am a healthy, happy woman, and my married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 1100 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo.

Can Reduce Pain in a Night medicine and this once or refreshing n homes.

 e natural waters of England the spas been the ned men. skins have shapely and stim-cells to Add medically an easy, inner,

Fayro is absolutely our body

You will awaken a week's

Want To you can your hips, body you

OUR FAYRO

HERE'S PROOF

Read what Fayro Baths have done for others.

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 3 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"I weigh 16 pounds less and feel younger and sleep better. Fayro is wonderful."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."

"My wife was always too prominent with her comments. I named Fayo half. I lost 12 pounds."

"Thank you for Fayo. I lost 14 pounds in three weeks. Fed better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayo baths have reduced their bulk. Thank you very much."

For obvious reasons, names are not quoted, but every letter published has been authorized and names and addresses will be given on request.

For Sale at Fayo's Drug Stores and at all drug and toilet counters.

If your dealer is unable to supply you, Fayo will be mailed to you on a plan, guaranteed to give you ceipt of price. Payto Labofalories, 531 Locust St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Everywhere

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

INSTALLMENT LXII.

STEPHEN GROWS DESPERATE.

Elizabeth hoped Mark did not understand too much.

"Jealous little cat," he went on. "All purr and velvet coat—but tiger eyes and tiger claws! Poor devil, he'd better look out!"

"Don't be absurd; how can there be anybody! Mewed up in that place and never seeing a soul!"

"Stephen and this Julian Vestington—"

"Poor dear, frightfully kind, but weak, and—he drinks."

"Which only leaves Stephen?" he said thoughtfully.

Her face flamed. "How can you be so ridiculous, Mark? You forget he is my guardian. It's different. Besides, he's far too—too superior for that sort of thing."

"Methinks you do protest too much, dear child. However, come what may, we're always going to be real pals, eh? And tell each other everything—or almost everything."

"Of course," she said happily. "Do you know I was rather in love with you once? Do you mind?"

"I like it! I adored you, too—I always do!"

"They laughed in complete understanding."

"Do you know what I would really like? To be allowed two husbands, and you always to be one of them; not the serious one, just the joking play-fellow one. It would be perfect."

"A-l at Lloyds," he agreed, "but alas! that emancipated woman has yet to cramp her style! I'm afraid it would mean, Tillet, and that's a long and expensive journey for the privilege of possessing two legal lords. Tell me about the funny old lady that warned you at the station; you say you put her card in your bag; give it me, child."

"Why?"

"I have my curiosities and think I should like to call upon this Miss Lester. As for most Grange, I command you to forget it ever existed. Got any plans?"

"If Miss Colet will let me have my old room—"

"She will, I know."

"Well, what about the films? I've thought of being a star."

He burst out laughing. "You would! However, I should not worry about the future if I were you. Stephen is positively rolling and may have something to say on the matter, and you might do worse."

"Worse than what?"

"O, Miss Innocence! Well, let's follow his advice and suggestion, if any—mark you, I say 'if any,' Elizabeth; it is not always well to prepare the frying pan before the fish is on the hook—a gem of my own, child. He may get a brain-wave and suggest a happy issue out of all your afflictions. If he gets an idea, it'll probably be there for life, so I would agree and not argue if I were you—at least not till afterwards."

"After what, you aggravating creature?" she demanded.

"Till after it is forever too late for him, poor devil, and just beginning for you!" he said ambiguously.

Later, Stephen, having installed himself in a hotel, called for his ward, gave her a dainty lunch and took her to a musical comedy. In the evening they dined together and danced, and people watched them admiringly.

"What a good looking couple," they said. The women added: "Lucky girl!" The men: "Lucky fellow!"

"You really are enjoying yourself," demanded Stephen anxiously. "I dance so little and I was afraid—"

"You needn't be," she cried with shining eyes. "After most Grange tonight seems just like heaven. And Mark understood perfectly. He didn't think it just imagination or silliness."

It was a relief telling some one who could really enter into one's feelings! "O, Elizabeth," he said almost desperately, "if you knew how I wanted to understand, how I try!" If he could understand as the finely attuned Mark understood and yet be himself! If he could keep Elizabeth forever safe, and happy, and young!

If! If!

The most precious things of life were the most fleeting, perhaps because they were too finely exquisite to last. Youth died and the first wild fervor of love. The present went whirling into the past while one sought to hold it; the future became the present and passed away into the out-lived. There was only the swiftly fleeting instant to be captured.

"O, Stephen, what a sigh! Am I treading on your toes?"

"Can this stilted tread? Would you feel it if it did?" he returned, holding her a little closer. "Did Mark kiss you again?" he burst out suddenly.

"Of course not; why should he? He's a darling and I was awfully gone on him once."

"You were in good company!" he snapped.

"How spiteful men can be!"

"Spiteful! I'm sure if he can hear it I can!"

"I'm afraid you've wasted your young life, Stephen," she cried provokingly. "Now I haven't wasted an hour of mine. Me for love every time! Whenever I saw the portrait of a man in the papers who had done something, I decided to be in love, and I was."

"Really, Elizabeth, you can't go falling in love all over the place."

"Very well, then, you'd better have me bound-over to keep the peace!" she chuckled.

"Silly little mouse trying to play with a cat!" he said wryly.

"Best be the cat, perhaps," she conceded. "Thanks for the advice."

He looked over her head, his mouth set. "I trust you will find a nice fat mouse, Elizabeth. He did not know the name of the mouse; he only knew one name it would never answer to and that was Stephen Whitley."

The next morning Mark rang up Stephen. "I'm going round to see Miss Lester," he said. "I want to know the ins and outs of this Vestington affair."

"I was going round to see Julian Vestington," returned Stephen. "We may as well combine the two visits. I suppose Elizabeth told you how her money 'disappeared'?"

"This morning with a line from Mrs. Vestington saying she had found it stuck behind a drawer when she packed up Elizabeth's things, which she is sending on. One hardly knows what to think."

"I have my own idea," returned Mark.

(Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

(Continued Tomorrow.)

Just Nuts

JIMMY JAMS

SALLY'S SALLIES

People who applaud vaudeville performers think one good turn deserves another.

Aunt Het

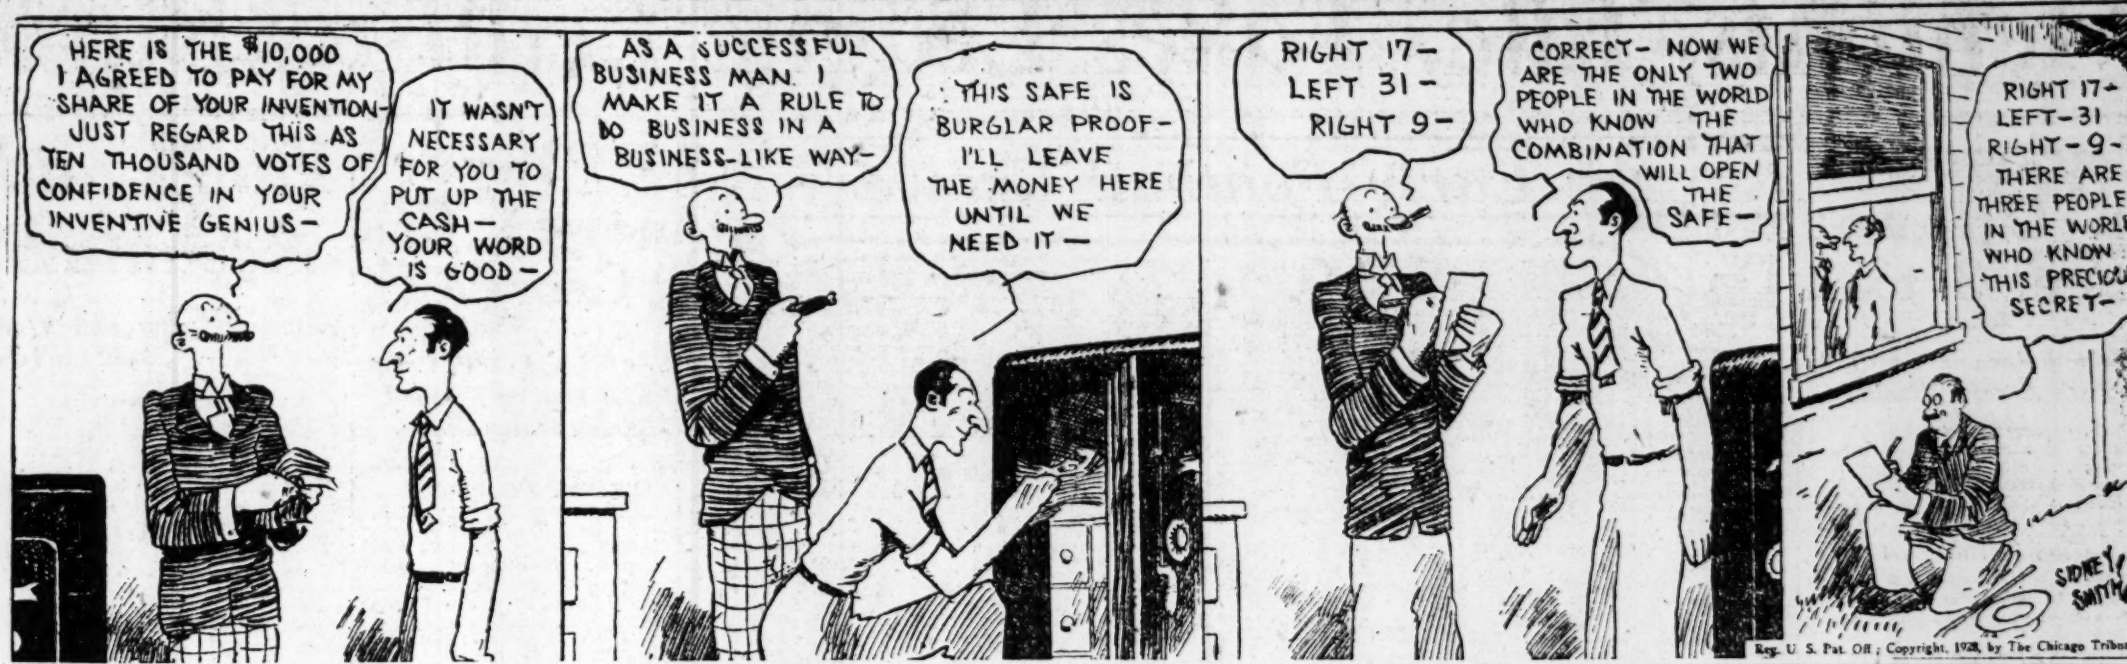

"It ain't love that makes a man want his wife to dress fine. He wants her to show off so folks will know how much money he's makin'."

People who applaud vaudeville performers think one good turn deserves another.

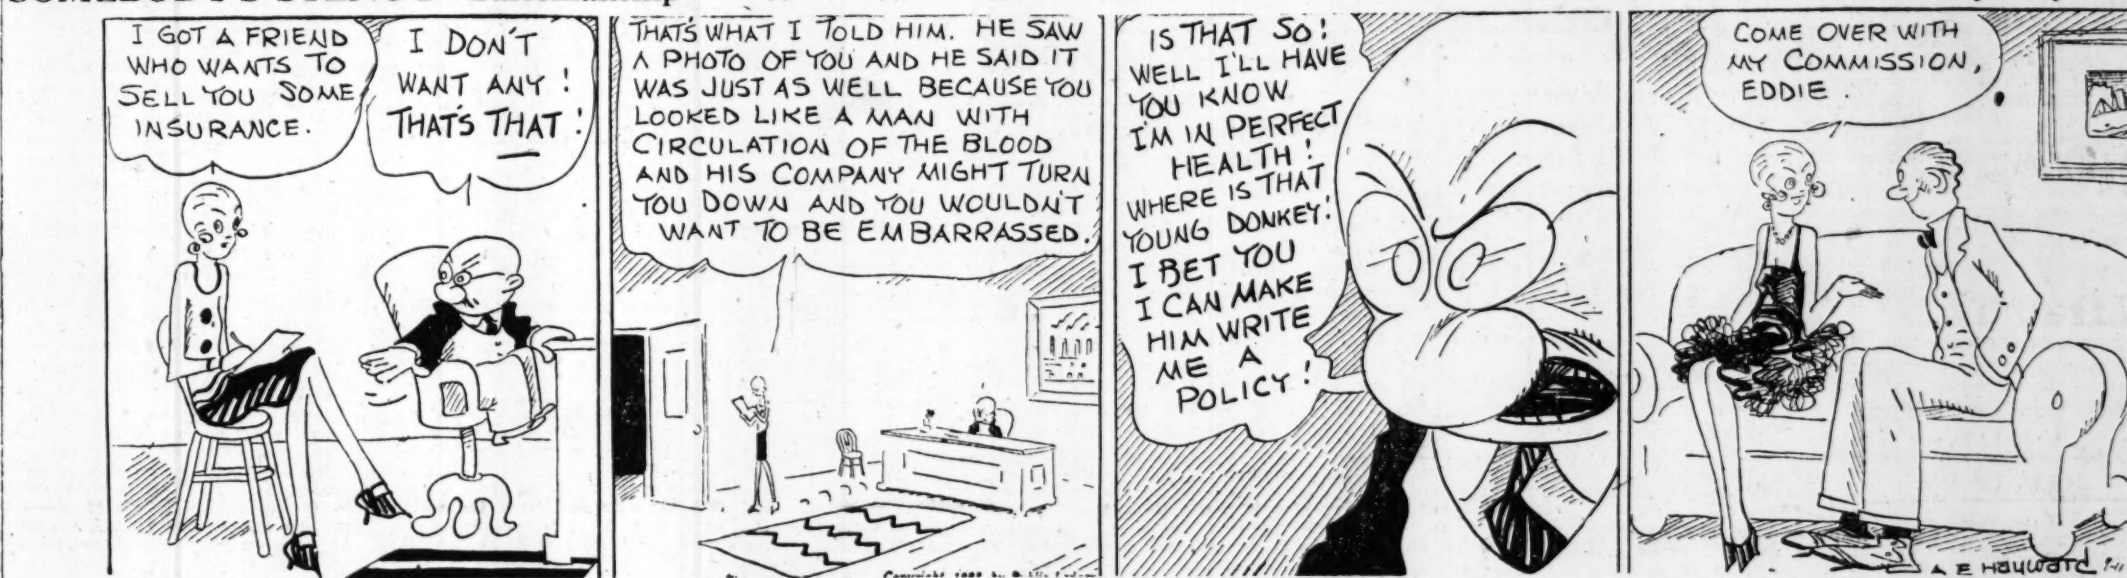

THE GUMPS—THE COMBINATION

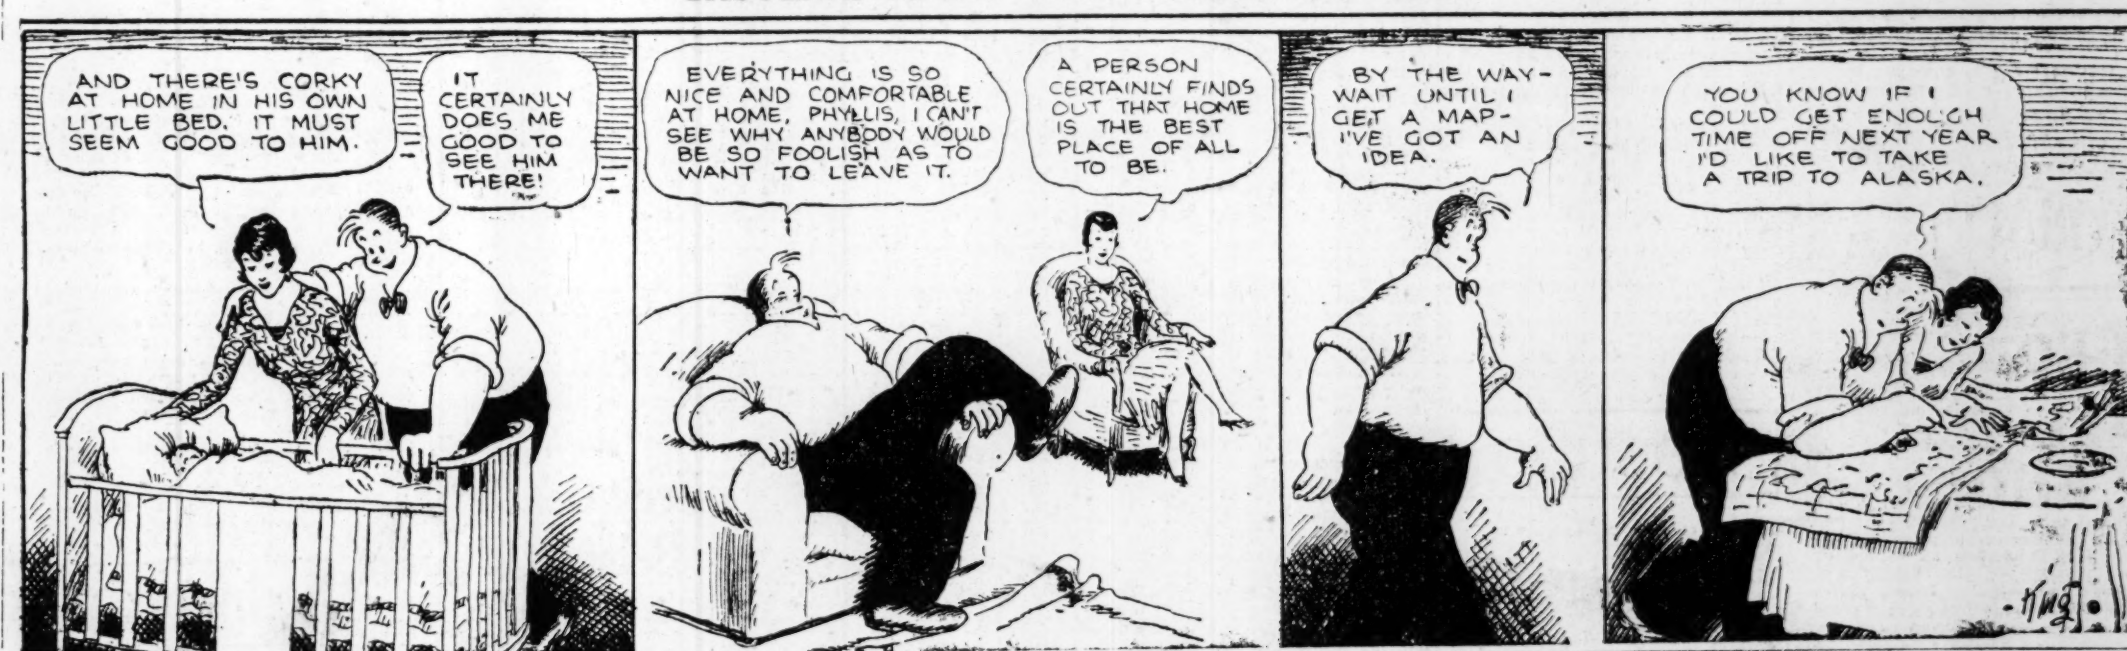

MOON MULLINS—MAMIE TAKES HERS BY PROXY

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Salesmanship

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE PERPETUAL URGE

Winnie Winkle, The Breadwinner

The Late Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

Bring on Your Lions.

NEW YORK MARKETS

Stocks—Irregular.
Bonds—Quiet.
Foreign Exchanges—Mixed.
Cotton—Weak.

WHEAT PLUNGES TO RECORD LOWS

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.					PRICE
	High.	Low.	Close.	Change.
WHEAT—
September	1.084	1.062	1.074	+ .014
October	1.124	1.113	1.124
November	1.17	1.16	1.176
December	1.17	1.16	1.176
January	1.21	1.194	1.194
BUSHEL.
September	.944	.934	.94
October	.744	.734	.734
November	.744	.734	.734
December	.784	.75	.754
RICE—
September, new	.394	.394	.394
October, new	.404	.404	.404
November	.43	.424	.424
December	.464	.44	.444
PEAS—
September	.964	.96	.964
October	.984	.98	.984
November	.984	.984	.984
December	.984	.984	.984
January	.984	.984	.984
BARLEY—
September	12.50	12.70	12.80
October	12.82	12.72	12.82
November
December	14.27	14.34
January	14.15	14.34
OATS—
September	16.30	16.17	16.30
October	16.30	16.17	16.30
November	16.40	16.37	16.37

Atlanta Stocks

Furnished by Courts & Co.,
Hurt Building.

STOCKS.		Bid.	Ask.
A B & C 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ pfd	100 $\frac{1}{2}$	103
American Savings Bank 9 $\frac{1}{2}$	130

Atlantic & Lowry Ntl Bk 105 ..	510	520
Atlantic Ice & Coal Co 85 com
($20 par value)	61	60
Atlantic Ice & Coal 7 1/2 pfd ..	108	110
Atlantic Steel Co 65 com	101	100
Atlantic Steel Co 7 1/2 pfd	106 1/2	106 1/2
Bibb Mfg Co 65 com	134	138 1/2
Bibb Mfg Co 65 pfd	102	104 1/2
Citizens & Sou Ntl Bk 13.25 ..	295	295
Columbus El & P 7 1/2 pfd	113 1/2	113 1/2
Columbus El P 6 1/2 pfd	108	108 1/2

Cont Gin com	71	78
Dinkler Hotel & $2 (no par)	22	23
Exposition Cot Mills 75 pfd	107
Fourth Natl Bk 105	450
Fulton Natl Bk 75	132	134
Ga Pow Co $5 pfd	102	104
Ga RR & Bank Co 115	249	252
Ga Savings Bk & Trust 115	230
Riverside Mills pfd 65	100	102
So Sprng Ded com conv pfd 75	100	102

Thomaston Cot Mills 6 1/2 pfd....	99	101
White Prov Co 7s pfd.....	98 1/2	101
White Prov Co Inc com.....	7	101
BONDS.
Atlanta Biltmore 1st mtg 7s....	100	102
Atl Ice Coal Co 1st mtg 6s '30 100	101	101
Atl Laund 1st lien 6 1/2 '43....	101 1/2	108
Atl Steel Co 1st mtg 6s '41....	103	104
Case-Fowler Lbr 1st mtg 7s '36	101	105
Const'n Pub Co 1st mtg 5s '30	87	98

Const'n Pub Co 1st & cons	6 1/2..	99	102
Robt Fulton Hotel 1st mtg	7 1/2..	100	102
White Prov Co 1st mtg	7 1/2..	99	102
The Warren Co Inc 1st mtg	7 1/2..	101 1/2	103

Local Bank Clearings
—Other Quotations

Monday	$10,012,731.7
Same day last year	11,959,481.8
Decrease	$ 1,946,750.1
Same day last week	Holiday
Same day 1926	11,257,287.3

Same day 1925 . . .	17,912,645.8
<hr/>
Atlanta spot (.)	18.3
Sales	20
Receipts	8
Shipments	1
Stocks	10,11

Atlanta C. S. Products Market Basis Atlanta
Crude oil basis prime tank.....	$ 7.65
C. S. meal 75 car lot f. o. b. Atlanta.....	47.00@47.5
C. S. meal G. A. com. rate points.....	46.00@46.5
C. S. hulls, loose.....	12.50@13.0
C. S. meal, sacked.....	15.50@16.0
Linters, first cut.....	.07 @ .09
Linters, second cut.....	.04 @ .06

Money Market.

NEW YORK.

New York, September 10.—Call money firmer; high 8½; low 7½; ruling rate 7½ closing bid 8½.

Time loans firmer; mixed collateral 60-90 days, 6½@6½; 4-6 months 6½; prime notes 4-6 months 5½@5½. Bankers' acceptances

Foreign exchanged mixed: Quotations 1/2 cents: Great Britain, demand 484½, cable 484 3-32; 60-day bills on banks 481. France demand 3.60½; cables 3.90½; Italy, demand 5.22½; cables 5.33. Belgium demand, 13.89½; Germany demand, 23.80½; Holland demand, 40.06; Norway demand, 26.65½; Sweden demand, 26.75½.

Denmark demand, 26.64; Switzerland demand, 19.25; Spain demand, 16.57; Greece demand, 1.28; Poland demand, 11.25; Czechoslovakia demand, 2.96; Yugoslavia demand, 1.76; Austria demand, 14.08; Rumania demand, .61; Argentine demand, 42.18; Brazil demand 11.93; Tokyo demand, 45.58; Shanghai demand 64.12; Montreal demand 100.09.

Bar silver, 57½. Mexican dollars 44.

Metals.
New York, September 10.—Copper firm electrolytic spot and future 14½.
Iron steady; No. 2 f. o. b. eastern Pen-sylvania 19.50@20.00; Buffalo 16.50@17.00.
Alabama 16.25.
Tin steady; spot 47.00; future 48.12½.
48.25.
Lead firm; spot New York 6.40; East S

Louis 6.25.
 Zinc firm; East St. Louis spot and future 6.35.
 Antimony 10.50.
 Quicksilver 128.00.

Silk.

New York, September 10.—Raw silk steady; prices per pound:

Japanese extra $4.75@4.85.
Crack double extra $4.85@4.95.
Grand double extra $5.10@5.20.
Double extra $4.80@4.90.
Italian ex-classical $5.25.
Shanghai steam three dancers $5.00.
Canto double extra A 14-16s $4.10.

Steel.

New York, September 10.—Steel prices
f. o. b. Pittsburgh per 100 pounds:
Blue annealed sheets $2.00@2.10.
Galvanized sheets $3.40@3.50.
Black sheets $2.60@2.70.
Steel bars $1.90@2.00.

Flax.

Duluth, Minn., September 10.—Close: Flax

Sales (In Hundreds)	High	Low	Close
2 Danish Con 3 1/2 '55	89 1/2	93	98
5 Danish Con 5s '53	93 1/2	93 1/2	93 1/2
1 Danzig Port 6 1/2s '52	86	86	86
1 Denmark Kadm 5 1/2s '55	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2
45 Denmark 4 1/2s '62	90 1/2	90 1/2	90 1/2
1 East Pruss Ld Bk 6s '30	95 1/2	95 1/2	95 1/2

26	Europ Mtg 7s	'67	..	92 1/2	92	92
10	Frankfort 6 1/2s	'53	96	95 1/2	96
9	Ger Cons Mun 7s	'47	..	98 1/2	98 1/2	98 1/2
14	Ger Cons Mun 6s	'47	..	90 1/2	90 1/2	90 1/2
24	GerProv&CmBk 6 1/2s	'58	..	90 1/2	90 1/2	90 1/2
4	Isotta Fras 7s	'42	..	97	97	97
10	Ital Superpow 6s	'63	..	84 1/2	84 1/2	84 1/2
15	Jugod 8 1/2s	Bk 7s	'57	84 1/2	84 1/2	84 1/2
1	Lombard Elec 7s	A	'52	100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2
1	Medellin Col 7s	'31	..	98 1/2	98 1/2	98 1/2
2	Medellin Col 6 1/2s	'51	..	93 1/2	93 1/2	93 1/2

3	Mendocino Co	93	93	93	93
7	Mendoza Pr	75	51	90	98
6	Minas Geras	64	95	95	99
2	Parana Br	74	58	94	93
2	Prussia FS	61	51	95	95
6	Prussia FS	64	52	91	91
1	Rio Grande	74	67	97	97
4	Rio Gr do Sul	64	68	94	94
4	Russ	64	ctfs NC	12	12
1	Santa Fe Arg	74	45	97	97
5	Serb Cta	67	85	84	84

15	Nilesia	Pol	7a	'58....	89	89	89
8	Stinnes	Ta	A	'36 waa	89	88	88
18	Tietz	Leon	7ia	'46 wvw	103½	102½	100
1	Un Indust	6ia		'41....	90½	90½	90
2	Venet	Pr	M Bk	7a	'52	91	91
20	Warsaw	7a		'58.....	88	88	88

Sales of stocks 585,700 shares.
Sales of bonds $1,534,000.

Associated Gas and Electric Company

61 Broadway, New York
Dividend No. 15 on Class A Stock

The Board of Directors has declared the regular quarterly dividend on the Class A Stock payable November 1, 1928, in Class A Stock at the rate of 2½% of one share (or 10% per annum) of Class A Stock for each share held of record at the close of business, September 29, 1928.

On the basis of the current market price for the Class A Stock of about $50 per share, this dividend yields a return of about $5 per share per annum.

Scrip for fractional shares will not be delivered, but will be credited to the stockholder's account until a full share has accumulated. Stockholders can purchase sufficient additional scrip to complete full shares.

Payment in stock will be made to all stockholders entitled thereto who do not, on or before October 5, 1928, request payment in cash.

M. C. O'KEEFE, Secretary.

This image shows a close-up of a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint, dark spots, characteristic of old paper. A dark, possibly black, border is visible along the top and left edges, which appears to be the inner margin or the edge of the book's binding. The overall tone is warm and slightly off-white.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Automotive

WHIPPET

Willys - Knights

Phone Us for Demonstration
HEmlock 7483

#7 Whippet 4-door sedan.....	$450
#7 Whippet Coach.....	400
#7 Whippet Coupe.....	400
#7 Willys Knight "70-A" Comp.....	775
#25 Willys-Knight Coupe.....	805

OTHER MAKES

#28 Essex Coach, almost new.....	825
#27 Chevrolet Cabriolet Coupe.....	430
#27 Chevrolet 4-door Sedan.....	425
#24 Hudson Coach 4 new tires.....	590
#28 Lincoln T.P.A. Touring.....	Special
Ford Tudor Sedan.....	Special

MANY MORE TO SELECT FROM TERMS WE TRADE
LEROUX MOTOR CO.
Formerly Willys-Overland Co.
597 W. Peachtree St., at North Ave.

446 Spring St. HY 2770

CHRYSLER

SILVER-WING

USED CARS

1927 Chrysler Roadster... $350.00
1926 Chrysler "58" Coach... 450.00
1925 Chrysler Roadster... 450.05

OTHER MAKES

1927 Buick Model 20... 395.00

1927 Essex Sport	$825.00
1927 Chevrolet Roadster	525.00
1927 Chevrolet Touring	275.00
1927 Hudson Sedan	750.00

Watch This Column for Our Daily Special

SPECIAL TODAY

1925 HUDSON COACH...$375.00

Only One Special Each Day

A Real Bargain

We Solicit Your Inspection as to Price and Quality

HARRY SOMMERS, INC.
446 SPRING 14y 4770

READ THESE ADS FOR AUTO BARGAINS

PAY AS YOU RIDE

Your Credit Is Good With Us.

COMPLETE LINE CUPPLES NEW SUPREME TIRES AND TUBES

Come where service and satisfaction is a certainty, because of our motto,

31,875
 485
 1,485
 325
 985
 375
 445
 345
 985
 345
 285

"Cupples users must be satisfied."

Cupples Tires
 Tough as a Rhino Easy Payments
 Rhino Tire Co.
 137 AND CAIN ST.

685
445
1,385
ors ree St.

A YEAR

TO PAY
USED CARS
0.70

270
PEACHTREE ST.
25 AUTOMOBILES from $50 to $200 in good running condition. These cars have many miles of unused transportation in them yet.

TRUCKS

'28 Graham 3-ton stake and

	2' Columbia 2-ton stake and cab	$750
	2'26 Graham 1-ton canopy top	500
	2 '26 Dodge 3/4-ton panels, each	425
	2 1-ton Ford trucks, each	100
	2 '27 Chevrolet 1-ton panels each	350

1,075	'23 Dodge 1-ton screen	230
	'25 Dodge 1-ton panel	275
	'26 Dodge 1-ton screen	350
1,000	'26 Dodge 1-ton screen	375
550	CARS
500	'28 Chevrolet coach, like
450	new	Bargain
375	D.* B. Senior cabriolet

745	demonstrator	$1,300
745	'27 Essex coach	325
550	'27 Chevrolet coach	425
450	'26 Chevrolet roadster ...	275
550	'26 Chevrolet coach	350
475	'26 Hupmobile 8 sedan	850
335	'25 Hupmobile coupe sed.	400
175	'25 Hudson brougham ...	530
	'25 Hudson coach	350

275	'25 Studebaker Std 6 Sed.	550
	'27 Nash Spec. roadster, rumble seat	675
	'27 Essex sedan	450
$575	'27 Dodge coupe, Std. gear shift	600
775	'26 Dodge De Luxe sedan	500
295	'26 Dodge Spec. roadster	375
	'25 Dodge Spec. touring	325

875	'26 Ford Tudor sedan ...	390
275	'26 Ford touring	175
275	'24 Ford touring	75
375	'25 Ford coupe	150
	'26 Flint 6 4-door brghm	350
675	'26 Big 6 Flint, 4-pass coupe	550
295	'27 Chevrolet 4-door sedan	525
175	Dodge touring	125

175	Ford sedan	175
150	Buick touring	265
150	Hudson coach	425
	Dodge coupe	485

SEVERAL half-ton Ford and Chevrolet trucks from $100 to $250.

100
750
395
225
100
DM.

OTHERS TO SELECT FROM

Lambeth-Eskridge Motor Company

Used Car Dept.
270 PEACHTREE STREET

270 LEACHREE STREET
Open evenings until 9 o'clock
Dodge Brothers Dealers
IVy 4211 : IVy 4212
IVy 4213 : IVy 4214

Atlanta's Distinctive Hotel

for Ladies and Gentlemen

The COX-CARLTON (formerly the Carlton Apartments), now under new management, provides that De Luxe Service and elegant surroundings which appeal so strongly to people of discriminating taste. Yet it is surprising how reasonable are the rates.

The Cox-Carlton
683 PEACHTREE STREET, N. E.
ATLANTA, GA.
Under Personal Direction of CHAS. H. COX

BALLARD'S
Two Optical Stores

Will fill your oculist prescription for glasses 100% correct, of the finest material obtainable and in the latest styles.

Ask about the new Tilley Corrected Curve Lens

WALTER BALLARD OPTICAL CO.
TWO STORES
305 PEACHTREE ST. (Medical Arts Bldg.)
381 PEACHTREE ST.
ATLANTA, GA.

Atlanta Motorists

We are giving those a chance who have not tried our famous Meritt Gasoline to do so all next week ONLY at—22c a gal.

Schwanton Oil & Refining Company
Courtland and Harris

THE OPERATORS' SCHOOL
BURROUGHS ADDING MACHINE COMPANY
249 Peachtree St.

We are enlarging the Calculator Department of our School, because of increasing demands for Calculator operators. At present the school has openings for several bright girls, preferably between the ages of 16 and 21.

Our employment service is free and enables you to secure a position upon the satisfactory completion of the course of instruction.

Get full information by a personal call, telephone or mail.

Witt Bldg. Mrs. Thayer WAL. 3251

CAMPBELL COAL
"MOST HEAT PER DOLLAR"

Coal You Can Rely On

It's high time to fill your coal bins before further advances in prices at the mines.

But be sure to get dependable coal—the only kind Campbell handles.

A FUEL FOR EVERY PURPOSE.

Campbell Coal Co.
IVy 5000 240 Marietta St.

Ed. Bond & Condon Co.
Funeral Directors
Ambulance Lady Attendant
128 Ivy Street, N. E. Walnut 1768

BANISH EYE STRAIN—
With a Pair of Good Glasses

No one can afford NOT to give their eyes attention. The risk is too great—the penalty too severe. Stop your eye-strain now. Go to an Eye-Specialist if your trouble seems dangerous. He will not prescribe glasses unless you need them. If he does recommend that you wear them, you should get the best. It is our business to make good glasses and fit them perfectly and in this manner banish eye-strain. You will appreciate our sincere trained service. Come to us for all of your optical needs.

Dockstader Optical Co.
56 N. Broad Street

Good looking—Perfectly fitted
Dockstader Glasses

Successful Engineers Will Train You!

If you are eager for advancement in the engineering field take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Evening School.

Practical engineers who are leaders in their fields are instructors—in no other way could you obtain their supervision and instruction. Can you afford to let this opportunity pass?

Registration begins September 10th. Mail the coupon today for full information.

Evening School of Applied Science Georgia Tech
Atlanta, Ga.
R. S. Howell, Director—HE. 3253

PERSONAL STATIONERY
STEEL ENGRAVED
Suggestions Sent Upon Request
J. P. STEVENS ENGRAVING CO., 103 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

We Pay 4% On Savings
Georgia Savings Bank & Trust Company
74 Peachtree St. Members Federal Reserve System

Atlanta's Oldest Savings Bank
Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits, $1,000,000.00
Loans Made on Improved City Property

ELECT O. L. WHITE
Sheriff of DeKalb County

A vote for him means four years of fearless and impartial enforcement of the law, and protection of your life and property.

In announcing for this office, Mr. White made the statement that the duties of a sheriff was the enforcement of the laws.

And if we are to have progress and happiness we must have regard for the majesty of the law. If we are to have Harmony, Co-operation, and Justice, we must have enforcement of our laws. Lawlessness means discord; it means destruction of property, life and opportunities.

Every sheriff of the state takes an oath to this effect. This oath he proposes to hold sacred and inviolate, but believing that Justice should be tempered with Mercy, he will not consider every infractor of the law a criminal at heart, but a human being with a soul, a fellowman that has fallen only a little lower than the best of us.

Mr. White has refrained from the use of any cheap political clap trap in this campaign, and we ask the voters of DeKalb County to discredit any eleventh hour propaganda that his opponents might use against him. Mr. White's life is an open book to most of the people of DeKalb County, he having run for this office once eight (8) years ago and they have not and cannot find anything to discredit his ability to fulfill this office.

His Motto Is: Courtesy, Efficiency and Punctuality.

Those associated with him will be Deputies:

A. H. FLAKE, Chief Deputy
CHAS. J. MOBLEY, Jailer
BEN. T. BLACKMON, Clerk
JIM PACE
J. O. MORGAN
FRED H. STEWARD

We ask the co-operation of every thoughtful and patriotic citizen of DeKalb County, and will greatly appreciate anything that you may do in behalf of Mr. White and his associates on SEPTEMBER 12th, 1928.

White Campaign Committee.

7 FIREMEN HURT IN PENN. BLAZE
Bradford, Pa., September 10.—(AP) Seven firemen were injured, one fatally, and six families were driven to the streets here early today when fire destroyed two business blocks, causing damage estimated at $102,000.

Thomas Murphy, 45, a Bradford fireman, sustained a bad skull injury, and hospital officials said his condition was serious.

The other six were overcome by smoke and were bruised when a skylight collapsed.

The unhoused families were cared for at a near-by hotel.

In Memoriam.
In memory of our dear husband and father, Mr. Horace Talmadge Huff, who left us one year ago today. One year has passed since that sad day. The one we loved was called away. God took him home; it was His will. But in our hearts he liveth still.

MRS. H. T. HUFF & FAMILY.

Vote for N. H. BALLARD
for State School Inspector
September 12, 1928.

PRIVATE LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
424 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

BIDS FOR HEATING PLANT
Bids for installation of a steam heating plant for Stephens County Court House will be received until 10 o'clock A. M. September 29, 1928, on two plans: One prepared by American Radiator Company, Atlanta, Ga., and one by the Loring Company, Atlanta, Ga. Certified check for $250.00 payable to Stephens County must accompany bid.

FERMOR HARRITT, Toccoa, Ga.

BIDS WANTED
Contract for furnishing the Georgia State Sanitarium with supplies for the fourth quarter, 1928, will be awarded Wednesday, September 19. Bids must be submitted by 10 o'clock A. M. on September 19. Bids may be had upon application to the undersigned.

HOMER RIVINS, Steward.

FEET!
Think of This!

—You cannot be yourself if your feet hurt. They affect your health and disposition!

EVERY part of your foot is scientifically studied and fitted correctly.

Wizard with the Wizard
FOOT APPLIANCES
Consult Dr. Parker and get the correct service! No charge for examinations!

FREEMAN-PARKER-LAW
FOOT Health SHOPPE
110 Peachtree Arcade
Street Level

$4.00
Per Ton and upwards according to grade
Delivered in bins
Carloads or less

W.D. HARDAWAY COAL COMPANY
WAL. 3808

Mortgage Money

With unlimited funds available—capable officials easily accessible, courteous force especially trained to carry out all details, we are splendidly equipped to negotiate loans for builders or holders of real estate with incomparable promptness.

MORTGAGE GUARANTEE COMPANY OF AMERICA
GROUND FLOOR
Carnegie Way and Ellis St.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Howell Hugh Howell
Arthur Herman W. P. Woodworth
Mark Bolding Herman Herman
HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
508-11 Grant Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

TILES
CARMICHAEL TILE CO.
241
E. Ellis St.
Atlanta, Ga.

W. B. Smith, Inc.—Mortgage Loans
Business and Residence Loans, 5 1/2 to 6%—Second and Monthly Loans
25 Walton Street—Ground Floor Healey Bldg.—WALNUT 5381

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES BOUGHT
SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS MADE
PROMPT SERVICE
WOOLFORD REALTY CO.
306 McGLAWN-BOWEN BLDG. WALNUT 5457

APARTMENT HOUSE LOANS
REASONABLE INTEREST RATES
Insurance Mortgage Loans Surety Bonds
Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas
72 MARIETTA ST.
WALKER WHITE, Manager Loan Department.

FINANCE NOW
While money is cheap.
Our Appraisal is without cost to you.
First Mortgage Loans.
ADAMS-CATES CO.
208-11 Grant Bldg. WALNUT 5477

Edw. Richardson, G. P. A., W. C. Jackson, G. P. A., L. L. Davis, G. P. A.
RICHARDSON, JACKSON & DAVIS
Certified Public Accountants
MEMBERS AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ACCOUNTANTS
1421-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

Professional Ethics
Info
Professional Service
J. AUSTIN DILLON CO.
FURNERAL DIRECTORS
502 South Pryor Street Main 4080-408
AMBULANCE SERVICE

Funeral Notices.
HARRISON—The body of Mr. James A. Harrison, who died Sunday afternoon at a local hospital, in his 38th year, was carried Monday afternoon to Forterdale, Ga., where funeral and interment will take place this (Tuesday) afternoon. Awtry & Lowndes company.

ATLANTAN MEETS DEATH IN CRASH ON ALABAMA ROAD
Birmingham, Ala., September 10.—(AP)—Jesse John, 24, of Atlanta, Ga., was killed instantly late Monday night when an automobile in which he was driving overturned on the Montgomery highway near Wilmary, several miles north of Calera.

Juan, accompanied by a man giving him name as Johnny Thompson, Birmingham, were driving south on the highway when the car suddenly became uncontrollable and ran off the pavement, overturning before it could be brought to a stop.

Thompson was not injured. The body of Juan was being held at Calera pending funeral arrangements.

Mortuary
JOHN M. FULLBRIGHT.
Funeral services for John Martin Fullbright, 50 years old, who died Sunday night from a heart attack, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, 254 Harrison avenue, N. E. The Rev. W. T. Hunt, pastor of Inman Park Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be in West View.

MRS. RUTH S. ANDREWS.
Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth S. Andrews, 805 North street, N. E., who died Saturday night at a private sanitarium were conducted Monday afternoon from the church of H. M. Patterson & Son, The Rev. Carl W. McMurray officiated and burial was in West View.

FOR RENT—208 Whitehall Street
A three-story building at Garnett Street containing 13,000 square feet. Will rent all or a part. Possession on short notice. Three-year lease at a very reasonable rate.

ADAIR REALTY & LOAN COMPANY
Healey Building Realtors WAL. 0100

MORTGAGE LOANS
Thirty-seven years without the loss of a dollar either in principal or interest to any investor.

WEYMAN & CONNORS
(Established in 1890)
58 Marietta St. Walnut 2162

Allsteel Storage Cupboards
Most economical for storing office supplies loote & davies co.

"Five Seconds from Five Points"
Printers Lithographers Engravers

Store in Haas-Howell Building For Lease
70 North Forsyth Street
Heat and Water Furnished
Haas & Howell — WALNUT 3111

Our Business Is to Lend Money to Men and Women on Their Personal Security
Amounts from $100 to $5,000 for one year at 8% per annum. Investigate the Plan. Loans Closed Promptly.

The Morris Plan Company of Atlanta
66 PRYOR STREET, N. E.
5% INTEREST PAID ON INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES

MORTGAGE LOANS
5 1/2%—6%—6 1/2%—7%—8%
Residence—Apartment—Business Property
Straight—Reducible—Monthly—Up to 10 Years—Atlanta and Suburbs
DUNLAP AND COMPANY
804 Candler Bldg. WALNUT 5400-51-52

Second Mortgage Loans
We represent several second mortgage connections that are in the market for desirable loans at this time. Purchase money notes bought. Immediate closings.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
Grant Bldg. Real Estate—Insurance—Loans WA. 3657

FIRST MORTGAGE LOANS 5 1/2 AND 6%
We Also Make Second Mortgage Loans and Buy Purchase Money Notes
MERCHANTS & MECHANICS BANKING & LOAN CO.
Grant Bldg., Forsyth St. WALNUT 5245

PURCHASE MONEY NOTES BOUGHT
SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS MADE
PROMPT SERVICE
WOOLFORD REALTY CO.
306 McGLAWN-BOWEN BLDG. WALNUT 5457

APARTMENT HOUSE LOANS
REASONABLE INTEREST RATES
Insurance Mortgage Loans Surety Bonds
Spratlin, Harrington & Thomas
72 MARIETTA ST.
WALKER WHITE, Manager Loan Department.

W. B. Smith, Inc.—Mortgage Loans
Business and Residence Loans, 5 1/2 to 6%—Second and Monthly Loans
25 Walton Street—Ground Floor Healey Bldg.—WALNUT 5381

FINANCE NOW
While money is cheap.
Our Appraisal is without cost to you.
First Mortgage Loans.
ADAMS-CATES CO.
208-11 Grant Bldg. WALNUT 5477

Edw. Richardson, G. P. A., W. C. Jackson, G. P. A., L. L. Davis, G. P. A.
RICHARDSON, JACKSON & DAVIS
Certified Public Accountants
MEMBERS AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ACCOUNTANTS
1421-1425 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral Notices.
LEWIS—Mr. Earl U. Lewis, age 21, passed away Monday morning in Marshalltown, Iowa. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Kate Lewis; one brother, James Lewis; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Heald and Miss Katherine Lewis. The remains will be brought to Atlanta and placed in charge of Harry G. Poole, who will announce funeral arrangements later.

PIERCE—Rev. W. L. Pierce died at the home, 305 Ponce de Leon avenue, Decatur, late yesterday evening, September 10, 1928. Besides his wife, he is survived by four daughters, Miss Lucile Pierce, Mrs. D. C. Corn, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. P. G. Maxwell, of Elberton, Ga.; Miss Zula Pierce, and one son, Dr. Lovick Pierce, of New York, N. Y. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Barclay & Brandon Co.

OTIS—Friends of Mrs. Mary E. Otis, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Otis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Corrigan and family, and of the families of the late Mr. William M. Otis and Mr. James C. Otis, of Columbus, S. C., and family of the late Mr. Peter M. Cline, of Milledgeville, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Otis this (Tuesday) morning, September 11, 1928, at 10 o'clock from the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Father M. A. Cotter officiating. Interment at Oakland cemetery. Grandsons of the deceased will act as pallbearers. The remains are at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Otis, 10 Sixteenth street, N. E. Sam Greenberg & Co., P. J. Bloomfield in charge.

McELVEEN—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McElveen, Mrs. Eunice McElveen, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Agnew, Mrs. Paul Shevov, Mrs. Mattie Simpson, Miss Corrie McElveen, Messrs. Morgan and Herbert McElveen, all of Atlanta, and Mrs. Jessie R. Hunt, of Cedarhurst, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Jack McElveen this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church, Cedarhurst, Ga. Interment at Cedarhurst. Awtry & Lowndes Co.

BRYAN—Mrs. Laura L. Bryan, of 1012 Delaware avenue, S. E., died at a private sanitarium yesterday evening, Monday, September 10, 1928. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Sterling Bryan; one son, Sterling Bryan, Jr.; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Powell, of Bowline, Ga.; two brothers, Dr. Robert C. Powell and Mr. S. D. Powell, and two sisters, Mrs. H. D. Walton and Mrs. W. B. Barton. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Barclay & Brandon Co.

YATES—Little Mary Yates, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Yates, of Bowline, Ga., died last night at a private sanitarium in Atlanta. Besides her parents, she is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. B. Yates, of Bowline, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brumlow, of Westmore, Ala. The remains will be carried this (Tuesday), September 11, 1928, to Bowline, Ga., for funeral and interment. A. C. Hemperley & Sons, funeral directors.

RAILEY—The friends of Miss Agnes Neil Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Converse Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bailey, Mr. Herschel Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Higginbotham, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Elrod, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mosley, Miss Lucile Bailey are invited to attend the funeral of Miss Agnes Neil Bailey this (Tuesday) morning at 11 o'clock from Mulford Baptist church, Toccoa, Ga. Rev. J. F. Goode will officiate. Interment in West View cemetery. Ed Bond & Condon Co., funeral directors, in charge, 125 Ivy street, N. E.

FULLBRIGHT—The friends and relatives of Mrs. J. M. Fullbright, Mrs. Grace Ashmore, Mr. Sam Sullivan, Miss Barbara Fullbright, Miss Nellie Pearl Fullbright, Mrs. Frank Fowler, Mrs. Sam McMurry, all of Atlanta; Mrs. Rollin Paul, of Decatur, Ga.; Miss Lizzie Fullbright, Mrs. Ned Baker, Mrs. W. F. Humphries, Mr. Ben Fullbright, all of Atlanta, and Mr. Joe Fullbright, of Augusta, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of MR. JOHN MARTIN FULLBRIGHT this (Tuesday) afternoon at the residence, 234 Harrison avenue, N. E., at 4 o'clock. Rev. W. T. Hunt will officiate. The following gentlemen will act as pallbearers and meet at the residence at 3:30 o'clock: Mr. J. R. Turner, Mr. L. H. Mason, Mr. E. M. Ball, Mr. L. N. Walker, Mr. W. R. Scott and Mr. J. W. Wade and the following gentlemen will act as honorary pallbearers: Mr. S. H. Fincher, Mr. R. L. Yarbay, Mr. S. A. Ghesling, Mr. W. T. Hamilton, Mr. H. W. Gregorio, Mr. A. F. Owens and Mr. T. B. Thornton. Interment in West View cemetery. Blanchard Bros., funeral home, 1088 Peachtree street.

(COLORED.)
ROSS—The funeral of Mr. Warner Ross, of 136 McDonough road, will be held at Tompkins chapel this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. L. Johnson will officiate. Interment Lincoln cemetery. R. C. Tompkins, funeral director.

LUKE—Mr. C. L. Luke, of South Atlanta, died suddenly Monday morning. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. David T. Howard & Co.

BLACKMAN—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Blackman are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Minnie Blackman this (Tuesday) afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Mount Olive Baptist church, Rev. J. N. Nabrit, assisted by Rev. A. W. Bolden, officiating. Interment Lincoln Memorial cemetery. Members of her Heroines of Jericho, Court of Calanthe, Knights and Daughters of Honor and American Woodmen lodges are requested to be present. David T. Howard & Co.

LOWE—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lowe, Mr. J. L. Dobbs and family, Mr. G. L. Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Banks, Mr. J. W. Dobbs and family, Mr. E. G. Dobbs, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Etowah, Tenn.; Mrs. Martha Thomas, of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Annie Thompson, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Minnie Clark, of Rome, Ga.; Mr. M. R. Hirsch, Mrs. I. H. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hirsch and Mrs. J. R. Hirsch are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Jennie Lowe tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from Friendship Baptist church, Dr. E. R. Carter, assisted by Dr. W. B. L. Clarke, officiating. Interment in South View cemetery. Pallbearers selected will please assemble at the chapel of David T. Howard & Co. at 1:15 o'clock.

Professional Ethics
Info
Professional Service
J. AUSTIN DILLON CO.
FURNERAL DIRECTORS
502 South Pryor Street Main 4080-408
AMBULANCE SERVICE

AWTRY & LOWNDES
FURNERAL DIRECTORS
AMBULANCE SERVICE

WALTON
241
E. Ellis St.
Atlanta, Ga.